Reds Speed Up Move To Check 'War Mongering'

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet attack on the United States was renewed in the United Nations' Assembly today by White Russia's chief delegate, Kuzma V. Kiselev, who took up the battle where Andrei Y. Vishinsky left off Thursday.

Backing up Vishinsky's charges of American "war-mongering," Kiselev declared the United States had taken up a slogan of world mastery.

"War threatens to erupt on the peaceful life of the people," he shouted, waving his hands.

Kiselev said the Soviet Union was leading the drive for peace under fire from Americans and others wanting war.

He voiced a threat not used by Vishinsky when he said that "the atomic bombs of one side may be answered by the atomic bombs of the other side."

He said the United States could not hold its monopoly for long. Secretary of State George C.

Marshall, so far ignoring the Soviet attack, was the first delegate to arrive in the blue and gold Assembly chamber. He sat with an adviser scribbling on paper before other delegates arrived. Vishinsky appeared just before the meeting convened.

Informed quarters said the United States would make no effort in the steering committee to keep the Soviet proposal off the assembly agenda, but would reserve its challenge until the issue comes before the 55-nation political committee.

At that time, it was said, the United States probably will call on Russia to say exactly what it meant by the charges of "war-mongering" and to state whether Russia and the United States can find a basis for stopping all war propaganda, including any of such in the Soviet press.

Earlier the Assembly had heard the first speaker in the scheduled day-long program of small power speeches, Jose Arce of Argentina, who said he would formally ask for a change which would virtually nullify the veto power.

MUCH DISCUSSION

While the Assembly corridors and hotel quarters of the delegates continued to buzz with talk of Vishinsky's amazing attack of Thursday the latter moved quickly to place heavy penalties on publication of warlike propaganda.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie disclosed he had received a formal request from the chief Russian delegate to have the proposal added to the agenda of the Assembly, now in its third day of general debate.

The new Vishinsky move cleared the way for a preliminary test, possibly later today, on the Soviet resolution.

The Russians' No. 1 deputy foreign minister put the resolution before the 55 member powers at the end of his charges Thursday against the United States and nine prominent Americans whom he called leading "war-mongers." Russia's policy was delivered in terms of violent condemnation that shocked most of his listeners.

No Lumber Price Boost

EDMONTON (CP)—Lumber mill operators in Alberta have decided against making any advance in prices, although de-control of prices now is in effect through federal government action, it was announced today.

Vancouver Boy, 14, Bandit Suspect

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 14-year-old boy was in police custody for investigation today after his arrest Thursday night when $104 was found in his pocket. The lad claims it is part of $385 he took from an unidentified man Sept. 16. He told police he had attacked the man and robbed him of all his money.

To Sell More Gold

LONDON (Reuter)—Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, today told a press conference Britain will sell more gold and might buy more dollars from the International Monetary Fund.

Housewives Protest

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Housewives Consumers' Association here has called a public meeting for tonight to protest the rising costs of bread and other staple foods, Mrs. Mona Morgan, vice-president, said today.

Fishboat Saved

VANCOUVER (CP)—Air-sea rescue headquarters announced here today that the fishing vessel Crest, which became disabled after a net had fouled its propeller off Quatsino, Vancouver Island, had been towed to Winter Harbor by the B.C. fishing boat Co-operator. The 38-foot craft had drifted helplessly about 25 miles off the island's west coast.

1,000,000 Italian Farm Workers Interrupt Strike To Save Crops

ROME (CP)—The 12-day-old strike of more than 1,000,000 farm laborers and share croppers in northern Italy for better working conditions ended today with agreement reached between representatives of employers and the workers.

The North Italy Farm Laborers' Association decided Thursday night the workers should interrupt their strike to save the rice crop, but made it clear the strike would be resumed until all the men's demands were met.

Meanwhile, in Rome, Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti said that "there is a will for revolution in large strata of the Italian people." He spoke on the eve of country-wide demonstrations against the high cost of living.

Togliatti denied charges of right-wing newspapers that the demonstrations tomorrow were aimed at revolution.

"Revolutions are not declared and not made by parties," he declared. "Parties only direct them and, if they are strong and well organized and have a majority of the people, direct them to victory."

$74,000,000 LOSSES

Some hope was expressed for an early settlement of the farm strike. The newspaper Il Tempo of Milan estimated the strike had caused crop losses of 26,000,000, 000 lire (about $74,000,000 at the official rate of exchange).

Togliatti said it was true that a will for revolution existed among a large section of the Italian people "in a sense that it aspires to profound change in the unjust economic structure of our society."

Mario Scelba, Premier de Gasperi's Minister of the Interior, minimized the revolutionary aspects of the demonstrations. At the same time, he said, the demonstrations apparently were "aimed above all at the overthrow of the government and the return to power of the Communists and Socialists."

Battleship Slated To Be Rocket Launcher

Recent firing of a V-2 rocket from the U.S. aircraft carrier Midway may speed the completion of the battleship Kentucky, shown above as it looks today at the Norfolk, Va., shipyard. Work on the ship was suspended by the U.S. navy a year ago pending major design changes that would convert it into a floating platform from which rockets and atomic weapons could be launched against enemy shores. However, the go-ahead on completion will probably be held up until further tests are made.

CJVI Opposes Request For Second Radio Station Here

CALGARY (CP)—The Board of Governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation this morning heard M. V. Chesnut of CJVI at Victoria oppose granting of a license for a second station in the British Columbia capital, and H. C. Freeman of CKGB at Timmins, Ont., make representations against approval of a license for a bilingual station in that northern Ontario city. The Timmins application is in the name of F. H. Trudeau of Timmins.

Mr. Chesnut, who accepted an invitation to make a submission, despite absence of David M. Armstrong, who submitted the application, stressed the necessity for establishment of an adequate yardstick setting out when a second station should be permitted in any given community.

Claiming Victoria is in a "peculiar" position because its trading market is nearly all city and little or no rural area, Mr. Chesnut said the city's population is not a good barometer of whether a second station would be allowed.

MAINLAND COMPETITION

Although Victoria had only one station, there was intense competition from three Vancouver and four Seattle outlets, especially in the evening.

He told Mrs. T. W. Sutherland of Revelstoke, B.C., a governor, that retail sales in Victoria do not form any yardstick for the city's ability to support another station as a large portion of sales may be made to tourists.

Chairman Dunton announced that Mr. Armstrong had asked for postponement of his presentation in support of his application. He wished to gather additional information. The application is for a station of 250 watts, on 1,570 kilocycles.

Alberta Works Minister Fallow told the board approval of a commercial license for a French language radio station at Edmonton would be "intolerable" to Albertans and might lead to "absurd and hopeless confusion."

Mr. Fallow opposed granting of the application by Radio-Edmonton Limited, and he was joined by Walker Blake, manager of CKUA at Edmonton, a non-commercial station owned by the Alberta government.

But there were no spirited scenes today as occurred Thursday when the governors and representatives of those opposed to granting of licenses to French language stations became involved in a series of charges and counter-charges that religious prejudices are behind both support for and opposition to establishment of such stations.

The board will close its public hearings at Calgary after hearing this afternoon an application from J. W. B. Browne of Kelowna, B.C., for independent operation of CKOK at Penticton, B.C., a station now a satellite of CKOV at Kelowna.

5 Provinces Now In Plan To End Packers' Strike

By Canadian Press
Five of the eight provinces affected by the packing house workers' strike have agreed to a Saskatchewan suggestion that they jointly sponsor a conciliation scheme to end the walkout.

Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan said in Regina that the four western provinces—British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba—had agreed on proposals for having a common conciliator and that New Brunswick had indicated its willingness to support such a move.

He said he still was awaiting word from Premier Drew of Ontario. Some observers expressed belief that if Ontario agreed to the plan, Quebec and Prince Edward Island also would fall into line.

12,000 STILL IDLE

Meanwhile, as some 12,000 workers continued the walkout which has closed 21 major meat-packing plants, the worst meat shortage in Canadian history still seemed inevitable.

The United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.), on strike against Swift Canadian, Canada Packers and Burns and Company for wage increases averaging 17 cents an hour, insists on conciliation on a national basis.

Indications Thursday night were that the four western provinces—British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba—were nearing agreement on a Saskatchewan-initiated plan to appoint a common conciliator to mediate the strike.

MAY FOLLOW SUIT

Premier Drew of Ontario was reported considering the plan. Some observers expressed belief that if Ontario agreed to it, Quebec and New Brunswick would fall in line.

The plan calls for the men to return to work during conciliation—a step the union already has rejected in a settlement formula put forward by the Ontario Labor Department—but Premier Garson of Manitoba said Thursday night a compromise might be reached on the back-to-work issue.

The union still is negotiating for a new contract with Swift's which offered a three-cent-an-hour wage increase. Canada Packers and Burns, which offered a five-cent boost, so far insist on the unionists returning to work before conciliation starts.

Meantime the meat scarcity grew steadily worse across the country. Big city chain grocery stores and other concerns with vast cold storage facilities continued to sell meat but supplies neared exhaustion in small butcher shops.

New Type Store In Detroit

This store is being operated in Detroit on a wholesale basis for the exclusive use of 10,000 members of Ford Local 400, United Automobile Workers. It sells canned and packaged groceries, but no fresh produce, at reported savings of from 15 to 60 per cent. The U.A.W. says it will stay in the grocery business until prices are back to the 1941 level.

Citizens Ordered Indoors As Trees, Signs Blown Down

Prince Rupert Sees Gold Rush In City Limits

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—Staking of claims continued here today as first reports indicated gold accidentally discovered Wednesday was high-grade ore.

A former miner, now a prominent businessman, estimated the value of the sample of gold-ore obtained at $75,000 a ton. The free gold was reported so rich that the rock was actually pliable.

However, no official assay had been made of samples obtained. Officials of the B.C. Department of Mines in Victoria said they had no official word of a strike in the district.

A workman, engaged in building a road near the fish docks on the waterfront, chipped off a small outcropping of the rock said to contain two ounces of the precious metal. Word spread rapidly throughout the 9,000 population and men with transits and compasses were out with the dawn staking claims, many of them within the city limits.

There are no gold mines within 20 miles of Prince Rupert, the nearest being on the northern tip of Forcher Island to the south.

Reports of a gold strike at Prince Rupert will be investigated by the provincial mines department which, while it has no records of gold found in that immediate area, says gold is likely to crop up almost anywhere west of the Rocky Mountains.

Dr. J. M. Black, engineer for the department, who is now in the Portland Canal area, will look into the reports when he returns to Prince Rupert.

Officials of the department said that frequently mineralization close to the top of the ground may be hidden for years without showing up despite excavation in the area.

No Change Today In LaGuardia's Condition

NEW YORK (AP)—Fiorello H. LaGuardia, 64, gravely ill of a pancreas condition at his home, faces "no immediate change for better or for worse," his physician said today.

Dr. George Baehr said in a bulletin that the former mayor of New York and director-general of Unrra, had "remained in a deep sleep" throughout the night.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The dead centre of a howling, devastating hurricane moved over New Orleans at 9.40 a.m., today after winds up to 90 miles an hour, had raked the city and environs, doing heavy damage.

Residents were warned not to be fooled by the dead calm, the lifting clouds and the cessation of the rain that masked its centre.

The storm, the weather bureau said, would strike again in full fury, from the opposite direction, and rage for hours more.

The tropical hurricane which moved across Florida last Tuesday with multi-million dollar devastation and at least five fatalities ripped into the lower Louisiana coast shortly after 6 a.m.

MANY REFUGEES THERE

The weather bureau said a front 20 miles wide with high velocity winds was bearing down on this city of 600,000, now swollen with uncounted thousands of refugees.

Mayor Delesseps S. Morrison proclaimed a state emergency at 7.30 a.m. and ordered all persons to "remain" indoors, off the streets, and keep out of the downtown area unless it is absolutely necessary. The situation is well in hand and all agencies are functioning 100 per cent in the protection of life and property.

The purpose of the proclamation was "not to alarm anyone," but simply as a precaution.

The order was issued shortly after a massive sign had tumbled into downtown Canal Street from the top of a department store. No one was injured.

CLOCK TOWER FALLS

Near Pontchartrain Beach, a huge roof-top clock 40 feet tall was torn to bits by gusts of 75 miles an hour. Streets in New Orleans, lined by gigantic oaks, were green-carpeted to a depth of several inches by foliage and torn branches.

Fallen power lines lighted the murky morning with blue-green sparks and disrupted traffic.

Approximately 8,500 persons huddled in New Orleans' Municipal Auditorium and 20,000 were estimated to be sheltered in the city's 40 schools.

The New Orleans Health Centre was unroofed shortly after dawn and one of the three-story brick walls caved in under the pounding of hurricane winds.

Screaming winds heralded the approach of the storm, which already had dealt heavily in havoc and distress for south

Florida. At its core, hardly more than 100 miles from the Mississippi River's mouth just before dawn, the winds roared at velocities up to 100 miles an hour. Storm warnings flew all along the Gulf coast.

Heavy gales swept out 200 miles from the hurricane centre, harrasing the Gulf coast from northwest Florida to Louisiana. They sent thousands of panicky refugees seeking safe shelters and prompted property owners to take all possible precautions. Wind-driven rain added to the apprehension and discomfort of the population in most places in the storm region.

FIRST SINCE 1915

New Orleans and the neighboring Louisiana-Mississippi coast had not had a storm disaster since 1915 when 350 persons lost their lives. Most of the city's buildings are of durable construction, but several wartime housing centres waited for their first test from storm violence.

Florida saw the last of the great storm's peak July Wednesday at midnight when it screeched out into the Gulf of Mexico at Fort Myers on the west coast and began weaving along off shore.

A late, but far from complete tabulation placed the south Florida property loss at $12,000, 000 in only six urban centres—approximately $5,000,000 at Palm Beach and West Palm Beach, $3,000,000 at the Boca Raton, Miami airfield, $2,000,000 at Miami Beach and $1,000,000 each at Del Ray Beach and Fort Myers.

GREAT CROP LOSSES

This did not include colossal losses to citrus and vegetable growers as the storm tore a 150-mile long path from noon to midnight Wednesday, from east to west coast, with winds 120 miles an hour and higher neither did it take in innumerable individual losses and damages.

At least five Floridians lost their lives from the storm. Hundreds received minor injuries. Thousands were driven from their homes and suffered hunger and other hardships.

Victoria Company Undertakes 20,000-Mile Tow To Argentina

A 20,000-mile tow, the longest ever to be taken out of the Pacific northwest, will be made by the Island Tug and Barge Co. Ltd. which will transport six steel U.S. army tugs by barge to Buenos Aires. It was announced today by Harold B. Elworthy, president of the local firm.

It is understood the Island Tug and Barge's Snohomish, which has been at Yarrow's during the past three weeks undergoing tropicalization, will take the huge tow down to South America.

The barge, which will carry the former army tugs, built during World War II, is the Island Yarder, which reached Seattle last Monday. Loading of the tugs will take place next week.

The loading operation will be one of the most unusual used in the Pacific northwest. The 278-foot Island Yarder will be dry-docked in Ballard. The drydock, with the barge in its cradle, will be lowered and then the six tugs will be placed above the submerged drydock and barge. As the barge is lifted the tugs will be left on the deck of the Island Yarder, which will also be pumped out.

The Snohomish will carry a crew of 18 men under the command of Capt. Fred R. MacFarlane of Victoria. The whole journey to Buenos Aires and back is expected to take approximately half a year.

The journey down will be along the Pacific coast as far as the Panama Canal zone. The Sno-

Britain May Yield Holy Land Mandate

LONDON (AP)—The British cabinet may decide tomorrow to surrender the mandate over Palestine, which the League of Nations gave this country.

Sources said today the Foreign, Colonial and War Offices had agreed Britain should quit Palestine, but not attempt to impose singlehandedly a settlement by partition. Britain's views will be presented later to the United Nations, whose special commission recommended partition, but with Jerusalem under U.N. trusteeship.

Polio Tapers Off

WINNIPEG (CP)—A downward trend in poliomyelitis cases was reported today by provincial health authorities. Only three new cases were identified during the last 24 hours, bringing the Manitoba total for the year to 532. No new cases of encephalitis were recorded, leaving the total at 59.

Life Insurance Widely Accepted By Canadians

Public acceptance of the institution of life insurance in the Dominion of Canada was never higher than it is today, Phil Pearson, Canadian Life, Vancouver, told the monthly meeting of the Victoria and Island Life Underwriters' Association Wednesday in the Empress Hotel.

In his address entitled "Let's be Greedy for Success," he pointed out that it was becoming more and more essential for every life underwriter to be of high character and professionally qualified to render efficient service to the public.

Mr. Pearson was introduced to the members by Hart Henderson and thanked by John Nicolson, regional vice-president, Life Underwriters' Association of Canada, who was chairman of the meeting.

It was announced that Brian Kunnings, Col. Macgregor Macintosh and Darryl Elford had passed their third year C.L.U. examinations and had been awarded degrees.

Reg. Harris presented Fred McGregor, Donald Smyth, Vernon Ridgway and J. H. Croft with national quality awards.

Children Deprived Of Homes Increase

A 50 per cent increase during the past three years in the number of children deprived of their real homes by death, desertion and divorces was reported today by the Welfare Institutions Board, an agency for the provincial welfare department which has charge with licensing institutions and foster homes for these children.

Care for babies of broken homes has long been a growing problem of the welfare department. As well as caring for children of broken homes the board also assists and houses hundreds of homeless and abandoned expectant mothers. Providing of homes for the aged and infirm, some of them pensioners, is also taken on by the board.

"Generally speaking boarding-home standards for children and adults have steadily improved," a report of Provincial Secretary George Pearson said. "Institutions such as St. Christopher's School, a boarding school for sub-normal boys, in North Vancouver, do an excellent job, fill a pressing need. Pre-school centres, confined to day care of more than 4,000 babies give working mothers peace of mind and freedom to earn a living."

Weather

Weather today and tomorrow, valid until midnight Sept. 20. With clear skies general over the major portion of B.C. during the night, minimum temperatures remain unseasonably low. With a weak weather system moving southward over the Alaskan panhandle today, light rain is expected tonight over the Charlottes and adjacent mainland. Little change is expected though in the general weather situation over the remainder of the province today and Saturday.

Vancouver and vicinity lower Fraser Valley and Georgia Strait—Clear today and Saturday. Wind-light. Little change in temperature. Ground frosts in low areas tonight.

West coast Vancouver Island—Clear today. Saturday overcast in morning clearing in afternoon. Wind light.

Superintendent Praises Blood Donor Service

The service received from the Red Cross blood transfusion service was commended today by Dr. D. B. Roxburgh, medical superintendent of St. Joseph's Hospital. A great many patients had a much easier time following operations because of the availability of blood, thanks to the donations of the public, Dr. Roxburgh said. He added that most doctors would agree with him that the mortality rate had decreased.

W. J. Patterson, Former Premier, To Speak Here

W. J. Patterson, of Regina, Sask., former premier of Saskatchewan, will address a meeting of the Laurier Club in the Hotel Douglas Sept. 30, at 6:15 p.m. This will be the first meeting of the winter season. The Laurier Club has shown a large growth in the last year and now has a membership of 190. G. A. A. Hebdon is president of the club and will preside at the meeting.

Plant Courtyard Believed Scene Of Toronto Slayings

TORONTO (CP)—A high-walled courtyard at the rear of the paper box factory where 39-year-old George Vigus was plant foreman may have been the spot where he and Iris Scott, 21, were strangled the night of Sept. 10, police say.

Aluminum paint on the heels of shoes worn by the married man and the stenographer was the clue that led police to the courtyard. A large storage shed on the western side of the yard recently was covered with aluminum paint.

Vigus often visited the plant at night and police say he and his girl friend may have been heading for there when attacked in the darkened courtyard. The strangled bodies, stuffed into a luggage compartment, were found in Vigus' small coupe on a lovers' lane in west-end High Park early last Friday morning.

Police Thursday night questioned George Vigus Jr., son of the murdered man, and Walter Broadbridge, a friend of young Vigus, at police headquarters. After the questioning the youths drove away in their own car.

Broadbridge is the youth who, when riding in High Park last Thursday, saw the Vigus car parked near a monument and telephoned Vigus Jr. The elder Vigus had been missing from home since Wednesday night. Examination of the car led to discovery of the bodies.

Vigus and the girl ate supper together in a north Toronto restaurant the evening of Sept. 10. Investigators said it was possible they went to the plant after the last workers had left about 8:30 p.m.

Police have appealed to citizens who might have seen Vigus' car on the factory parking lot or in the vicinity of the night of the slaying to come forward with the information.

Ottawa Petition Demands Return Of Flour Subsidy

OTTAWA (CP)—The battle of the loaf of bread may develop into a first-rate anti-price-rise fight in Ottawa, where housewives and their husbands are taking action against the increase in the cost of living.

Just a few blocks from Parliament Hill more than 150 Ottawans Thursday night staged a protest meeting to discuss means of bringing their displeasure to the attention of the nearby government. Sponsored by the Ottawa Consumers' Organization, the meeting started out with bread as the chief item on its menu, but finished off with a meaty discussion on everything from petitions to plebiscites.

It was decided a petition which the Consumers' Organization circulated throughout the capital this last week, and which urges the return of the subsidy on flour, should be forwarded to the federal government. The petition has been endorsed by 23 churches of seven different denominations.

The meeting also recommended that a delegation visit the Parliament Buildings and ask, among other things, for a national plebiscite to leave it up to the people of Canada whether they want a return to price control and subsidies.

It also approved a resolution urging that similar groups across the Dominion unite in a general protest against rising prices. Warning of another depression unless immediate corrective action is taken, G. W. Goodwin of the Ottawa Board of Control said that only by positive steps on the part of the ordinary people would results be achieved.

FM In Doctor's Car

MT. VERNON, B.C. (AP)—Dr. Harry Thompson, weary of retracing his trips, expects to be receiving calls from patients soon over a portable FM (frequency modulation) radio station in his car. He received Federal Communications Commission approval to construct two experimental FM stations—one at his home and another in his car. When out on calls, he said, he would merely radio his home to learn whether there were any other calls in the neighborhood.

Salvation Army Work In Prison

The Salvation Army's work of "reconversion of men" is taking on increased importance as responsible men and women today plan how best they can cope with the numerous problems of the postwar world. By "reconversion of men" is meant the Salvation Army's work with discharged or paroled prisoners.

During the past year, the Salvation Army accepted responsibility for 194 parolees, and no fewer than 1,984 persons were committed to the Army's care from Canadian courts. In Victoria the Salvation Army police court officer made 311 visits to give moral, spiritual and practical assistance to first offenders.

In Canada a total of 4,213 prisoners were helped to find jobs, and were restored to their homes. Many prisoners' families were helped with financial assistance or counselling.

The Salvation Army pioneered in work on behalf of prisoners 65 years ago, when Army officers waited outside prison gates to offer assistance to discharged prisoners, and when the first "prison-gate" homes were set up by the Salvation Army for moneyless or friendless discharged prisoners.

Today, this organization has become a recognized agency in the field of criminology and its services to the men behind the bars form a semi-official adjunct of the country's penal system.

3 Escape From Prison At Boston; 2 Quickly Recaptured

BOSTON (AP)—Three dangerous convicts, one serving a life term, made a phantom-like escape from heavily-guarded state prison here before dawn today with such smoothness their absence was not noted until two had been recaptured at gunpoint by police.

First word that the men had cut their way out came when police reported they were holding two men who apparently had fled from the institution.

A quick survey of cell blocks revealed that the lifer and two long-term prisoners had cut their way through a foot-thick cell wall, sealed a 50-foot ventilator and dropped to the yard to climb a 22-foot wall.

Warden Francis J. W. Lanagan reported that although the prisoners used a sharp instrument to chisel through the wall, not a sound of their operations was heard.

The recaptured men were identified by the warden as Earl R. Baker, 37, serving a life sentence for murder, and George H. Baker, 35, Boston, serving 8-to-10-year concurrent sentences for breaking and entering. The third man was George Hayes, 30, serving 12 to 15 years for armed robbery.

Police reported the recaptured men were taken without a struggle.

One of the heaviest police concentrations in years milled around the prison area directly after the break and streets were blocked off near the Bunker Hill Monument, where Hayes was believed trapped.

Lanagan said the guard of the cell block from which the men escaped was a rookie who had been at the prison only two weeks.

Eugene Rittich Wins Music Scholarship

Eugene D. Rittich, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Rittich, 1217 McKenzie Street, has been awarded a four-year scholarship to continue his studies in music at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia.

Rittich plays he French horn and is a member of both the Victoria Symphony Orchestra and the Al Prescott Orchestra which has played at many concerts in Beacon Hill Park.

The young musician is a graduate of Victoria High School and has completed first-year university studies at Victoria College.

Window-Smashing Blamed On Nazis

BERLIN (AP)—The Russian-controlled German news agency said today that "Nazi provocateurs" had smashed windows in the headquarters of the Russian-sponsored, Communist-dominated Socialist Unity Party at Bernburg, Saxony, in the Soviet zone of occupation.

The night attackers also painted Nazi symbols on "numerous" buildings, the report said, adding that 15,000 citizens of Bernburg had staged a mass protest against the "provocations" and demanded action by the political parties and the legislature.

Australian Budget $7,360,000 Lower Than Last Year

CANBERRA (CP)—In gloomy tones, Prime Minister Chifley today introduced his budget in the House of Representatives with only three tax concessions granted.

The budget showed Australia's government was sticking to current financial plans and not making any long-range ones. No income tax reductions were granted.

The war-time company tax was abolished, the sales tax reduced and the gold tax suspended. The total budget is for $1,366,400,000, which is $7,360,000 less than last year. It shows an increase of $131,200,000 for civil expenditures, but a reduction of $204,800,000 in postwar commitments and defence.

Chifley told Parliament current high prices are likely to produce a big export income this year, but he couldn't expect the situation to last indefinitely.

"If our export prospects deteriorate it may be necessary to impose over-all cuts to carry out undertakings to Britain to do our utmost to avoid drawing on accumulated dollar balances," he said. It was too early yet to predict when and how the dollar position would be improved.

A recent gift of $80,000,000 to Britain had reduced Australia's sterling balance and Australia had agreed unofficially to freeze its London funds, amounting to more than $576,000,000 to help Britain.

Gordon Head Camp School Opens Monday

With 26 pupils, the Gordon Head camp school will open its doors Monday in the former hospital building, John Gough, municipal inspector of schools, announced today.

Mrs. C. Orme will be teacher for the one-room school which will take grades 1 to 6. Children in grades 7 and 8 will continue at Gordon Head school until there are sufficient to warrant a second room in the camp, Mr. Gough said.

There is a space in the building for three satisfactory rooms, he said, and it is anticipated that two will be in operation before the end of the year as more families move into the camp.

7 Trustees Will Go To Harrison For Conference

Seven members of the Greater Victoria School Board and two officials will attend the meeting of the B.C. School Trustees opening at Harrison Hot Springs Monday, it was announced from the School Board office today.

Those going from the school board will be Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, who is first vice-president of the association; B. Caley, M. A. Edmonds, J. A. de Bourcier, M. P. Paine, Waldo Skilling, and Miss Isla Tuck. John Gough, municipal inspector of schools, and T. L. Christie, secretary-treasurer, will also attend.

In addition Ald. F. G. Mulliner, past president, will go from Victoria. Dr. J. M. Ewing, principal of Victoria College will be one of the speakers Monday.

Marriages, Birth In Canada Soar

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada had a record crop of new babies in 1946.

That is what the Bureau of Statistics reported Thursday night in releasing preliminary figures showing that live births last year soared to 325,805 from 288,730 in 1945, raising the birthrate to 26.5 per thousand population from 23.9 the previous year, the highest level since the early 1920's.

The increase in births was highest in Ontario, where births rose from 78,974 to 93,809. Quebec rose from 104,283 to 110,809 live births.

British Columbia had 22,488 live births compared with 18,877 in 1945; Manitoba, 18,881 compared with 16,253; Alberta, 22,161 compared with 19,939; Saskatchewan, 20,699 compared with 18,926.

At the same time deaths increased only slightly to 113,519 compared with 113,414 and as a result the natural increase in Canada's population rose to 212,286 as compared with 175,316 in 1945.

As for marriages in 1946, they jumped even more sharply to 134,078 from 108,031 in 1945, exceeding by a wide margin the highest wartime years.

Soviet Delegate Charges U.S., Britain And Friends Plan Third World War

NEW YORK (CP)—The United States and her international friends today stood condemned by Russia as "only" planning a third world war, and many of her leading figures charged as "war mongers" seeking to add to capitalist profits accumulated in the Second World War.

Shaggy-haired Andrei Vishinsky, Russian Deputy Foreign Minister, who was prosecutor in the 1939 Soviet purges, delivered Russia's policy speech in the United Nations' General Assembly Thursday in terms of violent condemnation that shocked most of his listeners.

Vishinsky drew upon almost every conceivable source to prove that the United States in particular was plotting for war against Russia and declared Russia wanted only peace and prosperity for her people.

SPOKE HOUR AND HALF

In a 92-minute tirade of rapid Russian, Vishinsky gave not the slightest indication that Russia placed a shred of confidence in U.S. or British intentions and promised his delegation would fight to the end against the American plan for strengthening the organization by weakening the veto power with which Russia has blocked majority decisions 20 times.

Vishinsky was one of a long list of speakers, including Louis St. Laurent, leader of the Canadian delegation, who preceded him.

The Soviet delegate made no direct reference to "Canada," but he did refer to "bases in northern Canada" which might place United States attackers closer to Russian towns.

Apart from his brief references to Wednesday's U.N. reform proposals by U.S. State Secretary Marshall, the speech seemed to have been the product of long research and planning.

NO HINT OF QUITTING

It gave not the slightest hint that Russia would desert the U.N. if the Marshall plan of reform carries in the General Assembly, which it undoubtedly will since the veto does not apply there.

But he promised his fellow delegates a real fight and the bitterness displayed Thursday is expected to be repeated over and over in committee meetings.

The business part of Vishinsky's speech was the proposal of a resolution calling for countries to put the lid on publication of war propaganda, and for the implementation of last year's resolution for armament regulation.

Vishinsky attributed to the United States the entire fault for failure of agreement on control of atomic energy, charging the United States wanted to be dominant in this field and that the system of inspection involved in the American control plan was "national espionage" thinly disguised.

Canadian delegation opinion of Vishinsky's address was varied, but none of it was approving. St. Laurent did not comment for publication, but some of his associates were outspoken.

Solon Low, leader of the Social Credit group in the House of Commons, said he was "so sickened I felt like jumping off Brooklyn bridge."

"It reminded me so much of Hitler's ravings,"

CBC At First Public Meeting Embroiled Over French Stations

CALGARY (CP)—The board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation again today held an open hearing of applications for station licenses after its first public session in history Thursday which saw board members embroiled in debate on whether licenses should be given to French language stations.

None of the three applications to come before the board today was expected to arouse anything like the charges and countercharges Thursday when five submissions were made opposing granting of licenses for French language stations at Edmonton and Prince Albert.

PLAIN SPEAKING

Howard B. Chase of Montreal, a governor, asserted "straight from the shoulder" that the primary reason there is any opposition to authorization of French language licenses is that "French Canadians generally are of the Roman Catholic faith."

Mr. Chase, long-time official now assistant grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, stressed he is not a Roman Catholic before contending that all protests against French stations come "from one class of people who follow a certain line of occupation."

Rev. W. C. Smalley of Edmonton, general secretary of the Baptist Union of Western Canada, said "it is feared that if the principle of language stations is adopted in this Dominion we as a nation are heading for a situation similar to that in the Balkans" and such stations would "menace the unity of our national life."

In the question period after Dr. Smalley's talk, Déan Adrien Pouliot of Quebec City, a board member, declared Canada originally was a French country and added "we've been here for 350 years and we're going to stay here."

The only board members who opposed the application was Mrs. T. W. Sutherland of Revelstoke, B.C., who told a gathering of some 50 persons at the board's first public meeting that French is not the official language in western Canada.

Judgment was reserved on the applications which came from Radio-Edmonton Ltd. and Radio-Prince Albert Ltd. The applicants did not make any representations and no individuals appeared on behalf of them.

Three applications were scheduled to come before the board today.

David M. Armstrong of new Westminster, wants a license for Sask., and leader of Saskatchewan Liberals, said the speech was "old stuff" to him because he had been hearing that sort of thing for years.

WORST YET HEARD

The unofficial delegation reaction from those who have had a great deal of experience was that Vishinsky's speech was the most harsh and unfriendly ever heard in a supposedly friendly international gathering.

The Russian leader directed his attack against the whole range of U.S. foreign policy, including the Truman doctrine, the Marshall economy recovery plan and continued atomic bomb production, took a quick crack at President Truman and specifically accused nine prominent Americans, including John Foster Dulles of Marshall's delegation here of being "warmongers" trying to start a war on Russia.

The reference to Truman came when Vishinsky said the President's recent speech at the Inter-American Defence Conference in Brazil emphasized American plans to maintain strong military forces without mentioning American "obligations" under the United Nations to seek disarmament.

The "propagandists" he was attacking "are not only prominent representatives of the American influential industry and military circles, influential organs of press and prominent politicians but official representatives of the American government as well."

"It is by no means accidental that the particularly violent warmongers among them are those who are closely connected with commercial, industrial and financial trusts, concerns and monopolies."

The Soviet spokesman did not stop his indictment with what some observers around the Assembly began calling his "all-American nine." He lumped in "organs of the American reactionary press which is in the hands of such newspaper magnates as Morgan, Rockefeller, Ford, Hearst, McCormick and others."

a new station in Victoria, F. M. Trudeau is asking for authority to establish a bilingual station at Timmins, Ont., and J. W. B. Browne of Kelowna, has applied for independent operation of CKOK at Penticton. At present, CKOK is a satellite of CKOV at Kelowna.

Aircraft Insurance Too Costly To Work

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS

(CP)—Eric Beardmore, insurance analyst for the British Aviation Co., told the third annual conference of the B.C. Aviation Council Thursday night that aircraft insurance rates in B.C. were so expensive that those who stood to benefit most could not afford to pay the premiums.

Damage to aircraft throughout the province so far this year stood at $40,000, he said, and insurance companies could not show a profit under such conditions.

He pointed out that 35 per cent of landing accidents were caused by pilots landing on unauthorized fields and called for a general tightening of air regulations as enforced by the civil aviation branch of the Transport Department.

Mr. Beardmore also blamed much of the huge loss total on planes rented to private pilots.

Woe is man! He gives up all pleasure in order to prolong his life and a fool driver finishes him the next week.

THE CHIPS ARE DOWN

PREDICTIONS THAT THE CURRENT meeting of the United Nations Assembly would provide a "showdown session" were borne out by the forthright opening speeches of the chairman, Dr. Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil; United States Secretary of State Marshall; Canada's External Affairs Minister Louis St. Laurent, and others. In unequivocal terms, although without personal reference, they made it plain that the hampering tactics of Soviet Russia must not be permitted further to stalemate the work of the global peace organization. The stumbling block of the veto power, originally designed for use in extreme emergency but employed by Russia 20 times to stall Security Council action, must be limited, General Marshall said, and he received wide support from all but the Soviet Union and her satellites.

Yesterday's speech by the Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, Andrei Vishinsky, amply sustained the predictions of a showdown. There was little new material in the Russian's charges. As one member said, they could be heard at any Communist meeting anywhere. But M. Vishinsky has placed his sentiments on the record—the determination to retain the veto, to oppose the "Marshall Plan," to view United States efforts to rehabilitate Europe as "war-mongering," and to continue the current Soviet course of uncompromising expansion. On these he placed the seal of official Moscow approval. It was termed by some delegates "the most harsh and unfriendly" speech ever heard at a supposedly friendly international conference.

M. Vishinsky had postponed his speech twice after perusing an advance copy of Gen. Marshall's address. He spoke immediately after the Canadian delegate, and his words were thus the official Soviet reply to the earlier expressions of opinion. Forgotten were the smoothly-expressed hopes for co-operation and progress with which the Russian representative had arrived in New York. They proved as hollow as the "bagful of compromises" with which the Russians arrived at Paris not long ago; but which yielded only stubborn opposition.

Although Mr. St. Laurent had not mentioned Russia by name when he urged revision of the veto to save the Security Council from remaining "frozen in futility," his plain talk carried weight in the international gathering. He rightly saw the veto as a vital threat to the United Nations "because it will destroy all confidence in the Security Council to act effectively and act in time." The issue is now wide open and it is difficult to foresee the outcome. Enough of Russian technique is known to make it obvious she will not reverse the stand taken yesterday. Whether she will carry her recalcitrance to the critical point of splitting the United Nations organization into two separate East-West entities remains to be seen. But it is not likely that she would completely destroy the U.N., which is in reality her greatest safeguard against the war she accuses the western democracies of planning.

COLLEGE ENROLLMENT

ALTHOUGH LATE REGISTRATIONS may send the enrollment at Victoria College up to 470 by the end of the month, the total will not approach that of over 600 recorded last year. The peak has been passed. It is conceivable that a continually expanding population and a greater inclination on the part of young men and young women to take university training may, at some future date, produce a record above that established by the influx of veteran students. But that eventually cannot be expected for several years.

The decline in student population was expected. The ranks of ex-service personnel entitled to benefits of federal aid in resuming interrupted educations are thinning. Many Victoria College students in that category have gone to Vancouver to swell the enrollment there as they continue third and fourth-year courses.

The point is noteworthy, however, that more than 320 civilian registrations have been received for the term now opening at Mount Tolmie. In prewar years 250 was regarded as a high enrollment. As we said in these columns several months ago, the natural growth of the College has justified the transfer of that institution from Craigdarroch Castle to the former Normal School building. In the new quarters, moreover, more adequate facilities and better accommodation are available for the important work that is carried on by this community's highest centre of learning. It is fitting at this time to pay another tribute to the principal, staff and students for the excellent manner in which they maintained the high standard of Victoria College under exceedingly trying conditions. And it is gratifying to realize that, with the reduced number, not only will the duties of instructors be made less onerous, but that degree of personal attention which can be given to smaller classes will be raised to the benefit of those studying there now and in the years immediately ahead.

PAROCHIAL VIEW

MR. JOHN BRACKEN, THE FEDERAL leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, who is occasionally coaxed into public comment on current affairs, has seen fit to express criticism of Dominion cabinet members, who have, he says, "during recent weeks . . . been scattered to the four corners of the earth. At the moment Canada's problems are big enough to command the concentrated attention of the members of the Government."

It is easy to understand Mr. Bracken's habitual reluctance to be quoted, when such a comment is tendered as the firm opinion of the leader of the Opposition. There can be no other interpretation of the remark than that he believes the government leaders of this nation should remain strictly in their own capital, concerning themselves exclusively with internal affairs, and leave world matters to the other countries. That this would be extremely unwise, in fact impossible, in the world of today, seems of little moment to Mr. Bracken. If the inference is that he would put such a policy into effect if he were elected to power, then this is something the voters should keep in mind for the future.

The fact is, of course, that our Dominion under the present government is taking her rightful place at the conference tables of the world. Would Mr. Bracken have forbidden Finance Minister Douglas Abbott to represent Canada at the summer conference of the International Monetary Fund and World Bank, held in London? Would he keep External Affairs Minister Louis St. Laurent home from the session of the United Nations Assembly at New York? Would he have restrained Agriculture Minister James Gardiner from attending the United Nations Food conference at Geneva? For that matter, would he dissuade Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier from making his announced visit to Victoria to inspect the harbor later this month? Mr. Bracken has taken a very restricted view. He must know that the world's problems are also Canada's problems, and that they cannot be settled by never setting foot off Parliament Hill in Ottawa.

WE GET ALONG VERY WELL

PERHAPS IT IS BECAUSE CANADA IS a relatively "small" country in respect of population that so many visitors from abroad take upon themselves the responsibility of advising us what to do. Happily the arrogant and dogmatic ones are few in number. In any case, however, no Canadian need apologize if he or she finds it difficult on occasion to subdue resentment and turn the other cheek, as it were.

Two weeks ago, for example, a Socialist member of the House of Commons at Westminster had the audacity to tell a Toronto audience that many of the troubles confronting Great Britain at the moment—including a reduced standard of living for her people—were attributable to the failure of her former allies to go to her assistance by helping her to carry her burdens. He apparently did not know the score. And another peregrinating Socialist from the other side of the Atlantic urged Canadians to accept C.C.F. rule so that all Empire countries could conduct their affairs under the Socialist banner. The deduction to be drawn from this gratuitous advice is that its author really believes that Canada would be a great deal better off than she is now were she to exchange the leadership of Mr. Mackenzie King for that of Mr. Coldwell. But in view of the fact that Canadians enjoy by far the highest per capita income and a much greater measure of prosperity than any of the other nations of the Commonwealth, one wonders at the brassness of those from the other lands who would have us follow the Attlee gleam.

If the crusading Socialists from Britain desire to profit by an unbiased and genuine examination of the manner in which this senior overseas member of the Commonwealth family does its business, they will be well advised to reserve admonitory exercises for Mr. Attlee's government—whose current problems may or may not have been accentuated by its policies of nationalization.

MINORITY RULE?

THERE IS SOMETHING ABOUT THE democratic institution of the "minority report" which is reassuring and satisfying. It in no way detracts from the principle of "rule by the majority," since the minority, having been out-voted, must, according to that principle, accept the verdict and throw its efforts into common support of any decision reached. At the same time, however, it provides an opportunity for a full exposition of the minority's opinion, with the consequent personal satisfaction that such a right entails.

We like to think that such a privilege was freely offered in the case of a recent vote in the state to the south of us, for here was an exceptional instance in which the opinion of the minority, rather than that of the majority, appears certain to be verified by future developments. It will be the majority, this time, which will have to bolster its spirits with the knowledge that at any rate it went on record with its beliefs. The voting body in this case was the Board of Control of the Associated Students of Washington State College. The Board consists of eight men and six co-eds. And it voted eight to six for a resolution opposing the lengthening of women's skirts.

For all you know, earth's wisest man may be among your neighbors. The better you know him, the less unusual he seems.

Walter Lippmann

Editors Note: In earlier instalments of "The Cold War" in this column, Mr. Lippmann has criticized the article by George Kennan (alias "Mr. X") which appeared in the July issue of the well-known quarterly "Foreign Affairs"—presumably reflecting United States State Department policy for "containing" current Russian expansion. This and succeeding columns present argument in favor of a different approach to the problem. The series is continued by The Times in recognition of the vital importance of our neighbor's foreign policy in shaping events to come.

THE COLD WAR

BY CONTRAST with Mr. X, it may be useful to call in another expert, a distinguished political geographer, Professor Robert Strausz Hupe of the University of Pennsylvania, whose article on "The Western Frontiers of Russia" appeared in the July issue of "The Review of Politics," a quarterly published by the University of Notre Dame: "The mosaic of treaties and agreements, which forms the legal basis of Russian territorial acquisitions, is composed of strangely assorted pieces. Its general, although somewhat crude, shape was first revealed by the Soviet-German secret protocol of Aug. 23, 1939. This document allocated Estonia and Latvia to the Soviet Union and established the demarcation line of the German-Soviet occupation of Poland. The additional protocol of Sept. 28 transferred Lithuania to the Soviet orbit and expressed German agreement to the cession by Romania of Bessarabia to the U.S.S.R. The latter transaction was consummated in the Soviet-Romanian agreement of June 28, 1940. The Soviet-Polish treaty of August, 1945, confirms, except for minor deviations, the arrangements agreed upon in the two Soviet-German protocols. The Romanian peace treaty of 1947 expressly reaffirms the validity of the Soviet-Romanian agreement of 1940.

"THE PARTIES to these transactions represent the most diverse ideologies and allegiances, none of which the Soviet Union permitted to interfere with its pursuit of strategic objectives.

"Considered as a whole, this strange patchwork of title deeds, bound together by the military might of the Soviet Union, annuls the defeat of 1917. It restores Russia to the geographical position held by the last Romanovs. The Baltic republics and Bessarabia reverted—as, writing nearly twenty years ago, Isaiah Bowman predicted—to Russian domination; the territorial clauses of the peace treaty with Finland, outright cession of the Karelian Isthmus and Petsamo province, and lease of a naval base at Porkkala Udd, reinstate Russia actually, although not formally, in her pre-1917 positions on the Baltic and Arctic coasts; and Russian magnanimity toward Poland is rewarded by valuable gains in East Prussia, Bukovina and the Carpathians. The total area acquired by Russia between 1945 and 1947 is approximately as large as the total area lost between 1917 and 1921. Russia has redeemed the hostages she gave to defeat, revolution and national self-determination."

"THE WESTERN frontiers of the Soviet sphere of influence coincide so closely with those of Czarist Russia planned to draw after the defeat of the central powers that Czarist and Soviet policies appear to differ as regards methods only. From inter-Ally agreements concluded during World War I and the published statements of leading public figures, notably Russian and Czech, emerges the Czarist government's grand design for eastern Europe: The frontier of Russian Poland was to have been pushed westward toward Stettin, bringing within the Russian Empire the Polish provinces of Germany and Austria; the northeastern provinces of Hungary were to be ceded to Russia and a greater Serbia and greater Romania were to receive additional territories carved from Hungary, leaving the latter country a small state wedged between Serbia (Yugoslavia), Romania and a kingdom of the Czechs ruled by a Russian prince; and Russia was to receive the European possessions of Turkey inclusive of the straits.

"THE AGGREGATE of annexed territories, protectorates, alliances and pan-Slav affiliations would have extended Russian influence to the Oder River, the Alps, the Adriatic and the Aegean. The Czarist project, cleansed of the dynastic and social preconceptions of Czarism, took shape in the system of annexed territories, occupation zones, friendly regimes and ideological affiliations which constitutes the Soviet sphere of influence in Europe. It is only at the straits that the Soviet government failed to attain the goals set by its predecessors."

This explains, as Mr. X's analysis does not, the pattern and plan, not merely the generalized fact, of Soviet expansion, and also the causes and the issues of the diplomatic conflict in this post-war period.

IT WAS THE MIGHTY power of the Red Army, not the ideology of Karl Marx, which enabled the Russian government to expand its frontiers. It is the pressure of that army far beyond the new frontiers which makes the will of the Kremlin irresistible within the Russian sphere of influence. It is the threat that the Red Army may advance still farther west—that gives the Kremlin and the native Communist parties of western Europe an abnormal and intolerable influence in the affairs of the European continent.

Therefore, the immediate and the decisive problem of United States relations with the Soviet Union is whether, when, on what conditions, the Red Army can be prevailed upon to evacuate Europe.

After All, It's The Cat's Natural Reaction

Opening The Window On News

By JAMES THRASHER from New York

A GLANCE at the proposed international free-press treaty, which the United States State Department has made public, will show that it was written with no hope of Russia or any of her satellites signing it. Yet, as it stands, it is a significant document which, hopefully, will assist the unhampered dissemination of news throughout the world.

The treaty was prepared under the direction of Richard J. Finnegan, editor of the Chicago Times, and it treats news for what it really is—an international commodity vital to the existence of democratic governments and to the preservation of peace.

FREE MOVEMENT

Correspondents of each signatory government—including photographers, news artists, radio, television and documentary film employees, as well as writers—would move freely throughout the other's territory. There would be no government censorship, deletion or editing of copy except for reasons relating directly to the maintenance of military security.

Furthermore, the treaty would set up an International Information Commission which, for all practical purposes, would be autonomous. Complaints which the Commission could not settle by diplomatic means could be brought before the International Court of Justice.

DIFFERENCES NOTED

The authors of the proposed treaty have recognized the fact that some signatory governments might not give to their own correspondents the same rights as are guaranteed to American correspondents within the country. The document makes no attempt to rule out censorship or even suppression of publication which a party to the treaty might impose on its own nationals.

Perhaps the authors concluded that any attempt to interfere with the domestic policies of a government which regularly or occasionally imposes censorship would limit the treaty's usefulness even more than it is limited by the absence of Communist-dominated countries.

The treaty would, however, give the correspondents of signatory governments the same rights within the United States that American newsmen enjoy. And it might be that the good example would have its effect on, let us say, some South American governments.

EXTENDING FREEDOM

At any rate, the free-press treaty would have the desirable effect of standardizing one element of American foreign policy and putting it down in black and white. It would be an important first step in extending one of America's cherished freedoms by international agreement.

The concept of press freedom as set forth in this document is, of course, the antithesis of the entire Soviet concept of the function of news. "Every means of communication, including speech, writing, press, radio, motion picture and art," whose freedom this treaty seeks to promote, is regarded by Soviet officialdom as an agency of government propaganda. Yet it would not be sensible to stop driving toward that freedom because a sizable segment of the world's population is denied it.

FOR ENLIGHTENMENT

A widespread agreement to this treaty would surely add to the enlightenment of mankind. As for the governments behind the iron curtain, the force of concerted world opinion, though its action may seem slow and its strength limited, might eventually force a relaxation of the iron grip which, through fear of the truth, holds millions in ignorance.

With Victory, More Toothache

Norway Digest

PROFESSOR GUTTORM TOVERUD of the Norwegian Dental Institute described recently how Norway's stringent war diet all but halted juvenile tooth decay during the occupation years.

In late 1939, the Institute began a national tooth-decay survey, and for the following six years kept accurate records on approximately 10,000 children each year. Tooth decay had dropped by over 40 per cent by 1942, and by 1945 the tooth decay among children from 2½ to 15 years of age was from 50 to 70 per cent below 1939 figures.

Professor Toverud attributed this to the sharp change in the Norwegian diet during the war years. Following 1942, white flour was not to be had; sugar consumption was cut by nearly 40 per cent; cakes, sweets, and candy disappeared almost entirely. On the other hand, the consumption of potatoes, vegetables, root crops, fish, herring, and—during the first half of the war—cod liver oil, increased greatly. It was noted that even though supplies of milk and protective foods decreased from 1942, and that child weight and height averages began to drop, tooth decay continued to decrease.

Similar tendencies were noted in the other Scandinavian countries. In Finland, where food conditions were extremely poor during the war, tooth decay decreased by 75 per cent; Norway came next with from 60-70 per cent; Denmark 40 per cent; while Sweden noted a 15 per cent reduction. Today, however, tooth decay is on the up-grade in all four lands.

The Moving Finger Writes . . .

CAMPAIGN FUNDS

I like the words Progress and Democracy, Tolerance and Freedom of Thought. It seems to me there is no time so vital for tolerance and freedom of thought as during an election. What do we find? The party with the most money, through press, radio and pamphlets, exerts an unfair and undemocratic influence on the minds and hands of the voters in marking their ballots. We have read of the $900,000 campaign contribution by one individual to win the 1930 Canadian election.

We should press for legislation making it compulsory that all parties have equal opportunity in presenting their election program.

OUT OF EXPERIENCE

I note that the Salvation Army is making an appeal for help in carrying on its humanitarian work. As I have had experience through the years with the work of the Salvation Army, I would like to take the opportunity of heartily endorsing this appeal.

Each and every day in the Police Court, an officer of the Salvation Army is in attendance. From time to time, I have occasion to refer cases to them and on no occasion have they refused help; indeed, on each occasion they have done all within their power. They extend a helping hand to those who often are in desperate need of a friend and, truly, "a friend in need is a friend indeed."

I wish the Salvation Army every success in its appeal.

"THE PENSIONER"

As an official of the Old Age Pensioners' Organization and editor of "The Pensioner" magazine, I have been astounded at the lack of knowledge possessed by the ordinary citizen in connection with the work of this organization, and who is eligible to become a member of that organization.

In my dual capacity I meet people in all walks of life, and of all ages, and the hardest matter is to convince most of them that a person does not have to be 70 in order to become a member of our organization.

The only age limit is that a person must be between the ages of 1 and 100, and that embraces most of us. Everyone is a potential old age pensioner, regardless of the financial position a person is enjoying today. What assurance is there that that happy condition is permanent?

Those who read this and who are among the fortunate ones who are enjoying "Freedom from Fear" and "Freedom from Want" are asked to join our movement and help along the cause that is working for better conditions for our pioneer citizens.

Global Survey

A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

RUSSIA'S violent diatribe in the assembly of the United Nations yesterday serves at least one useful purpose: It makes clear that Moscow is determined to pursue without deviation the international course it has been following ever since the end of the war.

This means that the Soviet world revolution for the establishment of Communism will continue along lines already established. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky's pronouncement was not only a fierce attack on the United States which stands in the way of aggressive Communism, but it was in effect an explosive "no" to all suggestions for any U.N. moves which might hamper Russia's ambition to sovietize the globe.

LOGICAL STRATEGY

That's a logical strategy for the Soviet Union to pursue in view of the present international situation. Most of the eastern hemisphere is in a chaotic economic state which has reduced many countries to stark privation, including hunger. This is the day for which Communism has dreamed ever since the world revolution was conceived when the Bolsheviks came to power 30 years ago.

What more natural than that Russia should make the most of its opportunity? The only new thing in the situation is that Moscow has tabled its cards—a move which was forced upon it deliberately by State Secretary Marshall's challenge in the assembly Wednesday.

Vishinsky's speech wasn't constructive, and obviously wasn't meant to be. It was a capable job of two-fisted street fighting, which included calling of names.

It was, of course, a cry of defiance—but many delegates noted that it was straight-from-the-shoulder Red propaganda which would make prime reading in Russia and would impress satellites and temporizing nations.

OFFICIAL POLICY

However, we shall make a mistake if we don't also take this speech to be a declaration of policy by the Soviet government. The language which Vishinsky used has shocked a multitude. Your correspondent has attended many international conferences in various parts of the world and cannot recall anything even approaching the deputy foreign minister's war-mongering charges against the United States and even against individuals.

Well, what does all this add up to? Naturally a lot of folk today are looking anxiously at their war barometers to see how they read. Well, so far as I can see we are no nearer war today than we were before Vishinsky unbundled himself yesterday. That being so, we still can accept it as a fact neither Russia nor any other country wants war. All other things aside, the Soviet Union isn't ready for war and won't be for many years.

Of course, if nothing happens to stymie the world revolution for the spread of Communism, the time will come when it will break against the shores of great countries which will fight to keep it out.

MR. JINNAH'S CONSCIENCE

Montreal Star
As Moslems, Hindus and Sikhs murder one another in India by the hundreds of thousands, Mr. Jinnah, the Pooh-bah of Pakistan, must be subjecting himself to an examination of conscience. He should. His insistence on the partition of India is directly responsible for the massacres that now shock the world and exacerbate communal strife among India's millions.

ONE OPINION

Letter to Picture Post
Experts shout that equal pay for women is economically impossible. The simple fact is that apart from the usual exceptions to the rule, no woman works as well in a trade or profession as a man.

A job to a woman is an incidental continuity until she gets married. A woman experiences neither the needs nor the incentive to climb to the top. Most women enter business with their ambitions fixed on achieving independence in a kitchen as some lucky man's wife, while most men start a job with the desire to do well enough to provide the kitchen. An employer cannot command the same attention from two such differing minds. Nor does he expect to. Faces of female workers change from year to year, but in the main sheer necessity causes the males to take root from the feet up. Are fitting faces worth the same money earned by men who by steady application to their jobs know the firm's business inside out?

THIS IS THE STORY ...

Mary had a little lamb who was as white as snow, he followed Mary everywhere no matter where she'd go. And then one day when Mary left he followed her to school, and went right in although he knew it was against the rule for Mary told him often, "Lambs can't go to school, you see, and that is why you'll always have to wait outside for me!" And then, when Mary saw him, she could scarce believe her eyes, and all the children laughed and said, "This is a nice surprise!" But Mary's teacher smiled and said, "I'm very sorry, dear, a lamb is nice to have but you must take him out of here." So Mary took the lamb outside and felt so sad and blue, to think that he had done just what she told him not to do. The little lamb was so ashamed and felt so awful bad, it almost broke his heart to see that Mary felt so sad. So he decided right away he wanted to be good, and said to Mary, "From now on I'll mind you like I should." And that's exactly what he did, so starting there and then, he always was a perfect lamb, and never ba-a-ad again!

Ontario Barristers Honor Premier King

TORONTO (CP).—Prime Minister King, who has never formally studied law, was called to the bar of Ontario Thursday in a ceremony at Osgoode Hall, where his father, the late John King, was a lecturer for many years.

The special honor was conferred at a convocation of the Upper Canada Law Society, which made him an honorary bencher.

After the convocation Mr. King was presented as a barrister to Chief Justice Robert S. Robertson and took an oath of allegiance to the King and the prescribed oath of barristers-at-law.

'Blue Baby' Fund Buys Respirator

At a presentation at the Royal Jubilee Hospital Wednesday afternoon, officers of the Victoria Lions Club turned over to the hospital a new artificial respirator.

The new apparatus, a mechanical, is a development of the old-type iron lung. It weighs only 80 pounds and has many advantages over the older respirator in as much as patients using it can lie, stand or sit.

Money for the purchase of this machine was taken from the Lions Club "Blue Baby" fund. James Roberts, club president, said the club had decided to use the money for the new lung because there are no further "Blue Baby" cases in this area.

He noted, however, that the fund had been built up by public subscription and said, should a "Blue Baby" case arise, the club would take care of it.

Call More Arena Bids Oct. 1

Tenders for covering the roof of the Memorial Arena, and for drainage are being called, with the deadline date 5 p.m. Oct. 1, C. T. Hamilton, consulting engineer, announced today.

The roofing is to be placed over the cement barrel-type roof on the main structure 165 feet wide and 280 feet long.

Final pour on the cement of the roof will be made Oct. 15, Mr. Hamilton said.

It is anticipated that the arena committee, under the chairmanship of Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, will meet to consider the tenders Oct. 2, and a special council meeting to let them will probably be held Friday, Oct. 3.

Opposes Sex Education
MONTREAL (CP).—Dr. Rosario Fontaine, provincial medico-legal expert, says sex education for youth serves "only the interests of sexual vice... by focussing the attention of children on a subject which, as far as I'm concerned, should be left in the background of their current mind." Writing in the Police Constable's Review, official organ of the Canadian Brotherhood of Policemen, Dr. Fontaine said he hadn't the slightest confidence in sexual education as a means of restoring good morals among youth.

$100,000 Mark Set For Alberni Community Chest

PORT ALBERNI — With plans for the Alberni District Community Chest campaign gathering momentum, the executive at a meeting Tuesday set the yearly objective at $100,000.

The meeting decided 60 per cent of collections will go towards a new hospital and 40 per cent towards national and local welfare campaigns. This will not go into effect, however, until a first $18,000 collected has been directed towards relieving financial burden at the present hospital. A total of $33,000 needed immediately by the hospital will be made up by the provincial government's promised donation of $15,000 on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

The chest in its publicity will strive for voluntary 1 per cent payroll deductions or pledges from citizens and donations from large industry.

Discussion among the executive revealed about $250,000 will have to be raised for the new hospital. It was felt the government will contribute a large sum and that a further figure can be raised by several methods. Estimated total for the new hospital is $750,000.

The executive includes F. Duncan, chairman; W. Yates, vice-chairman; J. Perry, secretary; R. Eamer, treasurer; A. G. McCulloch and Ald. "Abe" Flanagan, directors.

Burning Slash In Alberni District

PORT ALBERNI — A bush fire stretching for a mile along the canal opposite Port Alberni and casting a heavy pall of smoke over the city has been explained by Forest Ranger Jack Morrison as controlled slash burning.

The fire cast a bright red glow in the sky Tuesday and Wednesday nights and many concerned residents telephoned the ranger. Considered one of the largest fires set in the district, the blaze is burning over several square miles of slash and in spots has crept down the steep banks of the canal to the water.

The fire is on operations of Sproat Lake Sawmills Ltd., owned by J. Manning.

New Sub-Post Office For Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI — A new sub-post office will open Sept. 23 at the Port Alberni army camp and will offer full postal service to the 200 families in the camp, states E. L. Hammer, Port Alberni postmaster.

Located at the Sugar Bowl Confectionery, with C. F. Leslie postmaster, the new depot will be known as Sub-Post Office No. 3, Port Alberni.

Mr. Hammer reveals any mail not addressed to the sub-post office must be received at the main Port Alberni office. He explains many camp residents may still wish to get their mail downtown.

Prizes Awarded At Ladysmith Fair

LADYSMITH — Many prize and cups were awarded to winners at the 33rd annual Fall Fair of the Ladysmith Agricultural Society which opened Wednesday and closed last night.

W. Wilson Sr. won the E. W. Forward Cup for most points in flowers, and the Maj.-Gen. Peakes' Bowl for most points in all classes. George Gold, Ladysmith, took the Bank of Commerce Cup for most points in fruits and vegetables.

J. F. Rumble, Saltair, won the William Wilson Cup for most points in dahlias, while Mrs. M. O. Tuddenham, Nanaimo, and Mrs. M. Wilkinson, Cedar, tied for the Bertram Cup for the most points in artistic work. For domestic science, Mrs. A. Sharp won the R. Simpson Jewelry Co. of Vancouver Cup.

Harold Fowler and Betty Scofield, both of Cedar district, won the $25 prize awarded by the Island Farmers' Association for calves shown by boys and girls under the age of 16.

J. M. Apperson, Betty Scofield, Jack Cairnes, Howard Fowler, Carl Fowler, Marguerite Thomas and Bill Ashwell won prizes offered by the Ladysmith Agricultural Society for Boys' and Girls' Calf Club.

A special attraction at the fair was the miniature castle made and exhibited by Paul Guilhemouille, Ladysmith. The miniature was started in 1925 and recently finished.

Vegetation Clue To Tree Growing, Forester Says

MESACHIE LAKE — In the near future it will be possible to determine the species of trees best suited to the forestation of different areas by the native vegetation, R. H. Spilsbury told members of the Canadian Society of Forest Engineers on a field trip recently to Cowichan Lake Forest Experiment Station situated near this logging community.

Mr. Spilsbury, who has just completed a report on "Forest Site Types of the Pacific Northwest," explained that the quality of the soil is reflected not only by the size of the trees growing, but also by ferns, flowering plants, mosses and lichens.

An understanding of native vegetation, he said, offered a practical means of recognizing and classifying the productive capacity of the different forest sites.

He said it will be possible to forecast at what age different second growth stands will become merchantable and how much timber may be cut from this study of plant communities.

The visitors on their tour of inspection were welcomed by E. H. Garman, senior silviculturist, who explained details of forest experiments being carried out at the station.

Mrs. W. G. Taylor Elected Treasurer

GANGES — Mrs. W. G. Taylor was elected treasurer at a meeting of the W.A. to St. George's Church here. She succeeds Mrs. F. Stacey, who resigned.

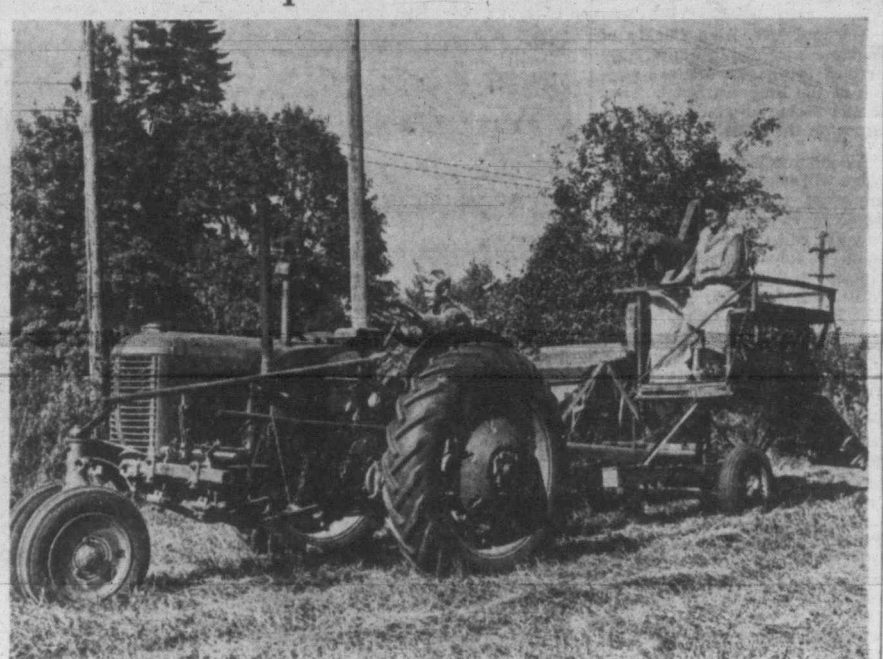

Arrangements were made to hold a harvest supper on Oct. 15 in Mahon Hall. The convener will be Mrs. W. G. Taylor, she will be assisted by Mesdames G. H. Holmes, F. C. Carter, W. Norton, F. Sharpe, A. Fletcher, E. Adams and W. M. Palmer. Mrs. S. Bannister will be in charge of decorations. A musical program will follow. Tea hostesses were Mrs. J. Bigham and Mrs. F. Sharpe.

To Spend $800,000

PORT ALBERNI — Expenditure of $800,000 on the proposed new junior-senior high school at Port Alberni has been approved by the Department of Education, the school board learned here this week. Plans of the building have received previous approval.

The board is to prepare an itemized list of needed equipment, for which the financial allotment has not been decided.

Woman Helps Son To Thresh Clover

"It's a great day for it," says 13-year-old Byrd Quist as he takes the combine over the clover field at Westholme, while his mother, Mrs. Carl Quist, looks on, giving advice.

WESTHOLME — Helping to operate a 160-acre farm, while attending to her three children and keeping house is all in a day's work to Mrs. Carl Quist of Westholme.

A native of Denmark, Mrs. Quist came to Canada in 1927, four years after her husband came out to locate a place to settle.

Together with their three children, Mary 15, Byrd 13, and Norman 11, they operate their farm and raise livestock for sale. This week, Mrs. Quist was out on the combine helping son Byrd, in the thrashing of the clover field.

"If it weren't for the shortage of help, however, I wouldn't be out here now," said Mrs. Quist as she paused a moment in the day's toil. "I like my housework and have done all my preserving. Right now I have a great pot of soup on the stove for canning."

She explained that the clover seed was sent to a firm in Vancouver where it was cleaned and then sold to farmers for seeding pastures. The Quists used to keep a herd of dairy cattle but found with the shortage of help it was too much work to try to run the farm and dairy.

"Now we raise livestock for sale. We raise 20 heifers for a year or so, breed them and then sell them," Mrs. Quist said.

A fine day for thrashing was the only reason young Byrd was allowed to stay home from his Grade 8 class at Duncan Junior High, this week.

"I like running the combine for a day; it's a holiday," said Byrd, as he started up the engine again to finish the thrashing.

Canadian Ship Safe In Hurricane Area

MONTREAL (CP) — The Canadian National Steamships passenger-freighter Canadian Observer signalled the Montreal office Thursday that she had put to Great Isaac Rock for shelter from the hurricane now lashing the southeastern United States coast and would arrive in Nassau tomorrow.

The Canadian National Steamship office at Halifax said the Observer left Halifax Sept. 8 and was due at Nassau with general cargo Sept. 15. They had received word that the ship was in the vicinity of Great Isaac on that day.

An official said Canadian National captains had instructions to steam clear of such storms as the big hurricane and it was possible that the Observer was safe but far out of her course.

Strikes Hurt Italy

ROME (AP) — Hungry Italy's strike of 1,000,000 farm workers appeared nearing a solution today as dispatches from Milan reported damage to corn and rice crops as the result of 11 days of neglect.

A strike of 850,000 metal workers called in Milan, Turin and other cities to protest the high cost of living ended on schedule in an orderly manner. But transport terminal employees were out on strike in some communities.

Floods In Pakistan

BOMBAY (Reuter) — Floods sweeping across Chittagong, eastern strip of Pakistan bordering Burma, have affected hundreds of thousands of people and swept away crops over an area of about 800 square miles, it was reported today.

Visits Friends Here And On Mainland

Miss Beverly Smythe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smythe of Park Towers, is visiting her parents and friends in Victoria, while on three weeks' holiday from her position with a Toronto law firm. Miss Smythe will spend some time in Vancouver and New Westminster, where she was a member of the Shubert Singers. She will visit with her sister, Mrs. F. B. Clark while in New Westminster.

Scottish Heather In Bridal Bouquet

A sprig of white heather sent from Scotland by the groom's aunt, was in the bridal bouquet of red roses and swainsonia carried by Miss Gladys Marie Rawlings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Rawlings, 3128 Glasgow Avenue, when she became the bride of Gordon Fraser Roe, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Roe, 1637 Amphion Street, Wednesday evening.

Rev. W. R. Ashford conducted the ceremony at Centennial United Church. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gown in ivory satin fashioned with fitted bodice, square neckline, full skirt and lily point sleeves. Her fine net veil misted from a beaded coronet, and as her only jewelry she wore a single strand of pearls.

Mrs. Ruth Murray, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Margaret Beane, wore gowns of peach and powder blue respectively, fashioned with lace bodices, over taffeta and nylon crinoline skirts. They wore open-crowned picture hats to match their gowns and carried muffs trimmed with blossoms.

The groom chose as best man, his brother, William Roe. Ushers were Morris Coxworth and Bert Gordon.

A reception was held at the Kit Kat Club where Mrs. Rawlings and Mrs. Roe received guests with the couple. George Hughes proposed the toast to the bride. The three-tier wedding cake, flanked by white tapers and vases of small white chrysanthemums centred the table.

For the honeymoon trip by plane to Los Angeles, the bride wore an oatmeal gabardine suit with blue topcoat, black accessories, and corsage bouquet of pink split carnations and gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Roe will make their home in Victoria.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Menzies of Duncan, B.C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan Elizabeth, to Lieut. Allan Bruce McKinnon, M.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. McKinnon of Victoria, B.C. The wedding to take place on Thursday evening Oct. 2, at 8 p.m., in West Point Grey United Church, Vancouver, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Pederson of Langford, V.I., B.C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Eleanor, to Raymond A. McSweeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. McSweeney, 1351 Merrit Street, Victoria. The wedding will take place on Oct. 18, at 523 Harbinger Avenue, Victoria.

Banff, California Honeymoon Follows Hodgins-Amos Rites

Honeymooning at Banff are Mr. and Mrs. Francis John Hodgins, who will motor to California prior to making their home in Chilliwack.

Rev. W. R. Ashford heard the marriage vows of the former Miss Nellie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Amos, 1115 View Street, and Mr. Hodgins, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hodgins, Wednesday evening at Centennial United Church.

Ivy and begonias decorated a trellised arch which created the wedding setting.

The glow of lighted candles added to the beauty of the bridal gown of ivory slipper satin, fashioned with princess line slenderness, the neckline enriched with brocade rosettes, sleeves pointed over the wrists, and full skirt. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a coronet of tulle trimmed with orange blossoms to hold her full veil. She wore her groom's gift, a gold wristwatch, and carried a shower bouquet of Talisman roses, white heather and swainsonia.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Ivy Shantz, sister of the bride, and Miss Doris Thatcher, bridesmaid, were gown in powder blue and pink nylon respectively. Both wore clusters of ostrich feather tips to hold their shoulder-length veils and carried bouquets of carnations.

Little Darlene Stokes, great-niece of the bride, was flower girl, in a yellow satin frock with net overskirt. She carried a Colonial bouquet. Wearing a page suit of white alpine cloth trimmed with gold buttons and braid, was Allan Richardson as ring-bearer.

Allan Hodgins was best man for his brother. Ushers were Roland Amos and Walter Turner, brother and brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Schantz, 1141 View Street. The table, decorated with pink flowers and lighted with pink candles, was centred with a three-tier cake made by the bride's mother.

The bride wore a powder blue dress of eyelet embroidery, with navy blue topcoat, navy and white accessories and corsage bouquet of Talisman roses for her going-away ensemble.

Job Counselor Gives Tips

Poised Farewell To Interviewer Boosts Career Seeker's Chances

Job hunter (above) leaves good impression on prospective employer with her self-assured walk, neat appearance. Long-sleeved blouse is good clothes choice for hopeful applicant (right) who must remove suit jacket to take typing test.

Your farewell after an interview is seemingly over may be your introduction to a job. Remember, job-hunting girls, no interview is finished until the door closes behind you.

So says one of America's leading employment counselors. Kathleen Bowen, whose agency finds jobs for thousands of young hopefuls annually, has learned that prospective employers make the most of their opportunity to size up applicants as they walk away.

The sizing-up, according to Miss Bowen, takes in front-and-rear appearance from head to foot. It also appraises self-assurance, reflected by your manner of taking leave and the poised way in which you walk.

On that score here are some tips from Miss Bowen which will help to turn your exit into an entrance to the job you want.

After you are sure that the interview is finished, gather yourself together with the least possible flurry, and leave. Say "goodby" pleasantly, add a nice "thank you," and leave briskly. Walk to the door with all the self-assurance you can muster.

Giving the interviewer the best possible head-to-foot impression of you as you walk away takes some beforehand preparation, including the right choice of clothes.

The outfit that makes a good impression is simple and tailored gray, navy, black or brown freshened up by crisp white touches.

But better omit the white fresheners unless they are immaculately white. A smart hat makes a good impression provided it isn't too conspicuously chic.

Hair should be simply styled and freshly laundered. Make-up needs to be conservative. For the head-to-toe inspection as you walk out, shoes must be in good repair and stocking seams straight. Shoes may be high-heeled and smart, provided they aren't too extreme.

Be warned, Miss Bowen cautions office-job seekers, that you may have to remove your jacket for a typing test. So be safe and wear a presentable blouse. Some men object to the sleeveless blouse. No interviewer looks favorably upon untidy shoulder straps or shirt-tails that hike out of skirt tops.

Under the stress of an interview and tryouts, nervousness is apt to cause excessive perspiration. Failure to use a dependable deodorant may lose a job.

What's New Around Home

Roll up the rugs, wax the floors till they shine. Then leave them bare and gleaming or use colorful throw rugs—bright plaids, prim florals, simple geometrics.

Play clothes for your upholstered furniture. Buy inexpensive sheeting, dye a color to tie in with your scheme, trim with festive white fringe or braid.

New look for fireplace. Cover opening with chicken wire, let nasturtiums climb onto it from box of earth. On mantel, more vines mount a wire triangle.

If your walls are in bad condition, fill cracks and smooth irregularities before painting or papering. For uneven walls select an over-all pattern or use dark paint.

Giddy slipcovers protect your lamp shades. For the living-room have skin-fitting ones of washable film plastic; for the bedroom a froth of white organdy.

A thought. Keep your goldfish swimming in mid-air! All you'll need is picture wire or bright-colored cord twisted round the bowl's neck and strung from a strong arm.

If you live in a rented house or apartment whose wallpaper drives you crazy, cover the paper with one coat of casein water-mixed paint for the price of a Sunday roast.

Jacket your books in shiny shelf paper and lengthen their lives. Write titles in bold crayon—red, green, blue. Very effective way to achieve a new look.

If the fireplace is a big, ugly brick one, paint it white or the color of the walls and forget it. If you have ugly wall brackets or lighting fixtures, remove, replace or paint them.

Undress your windows. Take down the draperies, substitute full sheer curtains in their place. Under them a green shade stenciled with a whimsical bird.

For casual meals all over the house. Paint an old card table green, cover top with a brilliant plastic fabric. Use with it kitchen chairs, each a different color.

If your room has an alcove or is too long, paper the alcove or one wall. If two big rooms are linked by a wide archway, use a floral pattern in one room and a stripe, plaid or plain paper in the adjoining room. But if house and rooms are small, the same wall treatment in both rooms will give an effect of space.

To keep cool. Place fan on bottom shelf of plant stand so leaves swing and sway in breeze. At window, bright check curtains pulled through rings.

Your laundered gloves. Do you have troubles getting those finger tips stretched and smooth? Insert a cool curling iron in each finger, flex. A wonder worker for straightening digits!

If your room is small, light walls will make it seem larger, but light walls show up dark furniture. So if your furniture is shabby, darker walls or an over-all pattern will be kinder.

Freshman's High School Record Doesn't Impress College Chums

The freshman co-ed who expects her high school popularity rating to carry over on the college campus is in for a big let-down. So say university deans who cite this as a common failing of the newcomers. Popularity must be won from scratch, say these counselors.

To earn popularity with newly acquired chums, you'll have to let current actions speak for you, and not rely on past achievements to boost your rating.

Some hints? Size up college activities and see what you can contribute. Perhaps you're proud of your dramatic ability. Well, don't sulk if you're not chosen to star in the class play. You'll rate as much applause from fellow students if you cheerfully accept any task assigned to you. That goes whether it's painting scenery, sewing costumes or hauling stage sets.

Let's say your high school forte was campus politics. Don't withdraw from the college scene in a temper if you're not nominated freshman class president. Volunteer to help with balloting, work on committees, help stage election rallies. You'll get to know the girls and by the time the next elections roll around, you'll be in a better position to cop top honors.

Personality Tricks

Don't wear heavy perfumes! A light cologne or skin freshener will give a pleasing, not suffocating, fragrance.

Don't use the office as an experimental laboratory for novelty make-up. Artificiality is distasteful to men.

Don't let your "tailored look" imply a "masculine look." Neat feminine accessories will make the difference.

Don't commit a second offence by letting today's damage (spotted dresses, soiled collars, etc.) show up tomorrow!

Do a neat and thorough grooming job before you leave your home instead of "finishing up" on office time.

Members of the Boys' Department of the Y.M.C.A. received final instructions at a campaign dinner as they opened a membership drive for 500 new members. At the head table, Arnold Ramer, Y.M.C.A. general secretary; Cecil Lewis, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee; Archie McKinnon, physical, and Percy Riddle, Boys' Work secretary. An innovation this year, the boys' drive for 500 members will parallel the main Y.M.C.A. drive for 1,000 new members. Percy Riddle, recently appointed to the position of secretary, received an enthusiastic welcome when introduced by Arnold Ramer. He challenged the group to go out and do a man-sized job in the campaign. A two-week holiday at Gilze Lake is first prize for the boy bringing in the most new members.

Homes Menaced In 50-Acre Gordon Head Fire Fanned By Wind

Families of three Feltham Road homes and personnel of the telephone exchange building got a scare Thursday afternoon when a combined grass and bush fire over 50 acres of Gordon Head property reached into the tall timbers adjacent to the dwellings to send flames shooting 30 to 40 feet in the air before Saanich firemen finally got it under control.

It was a fire which Saanich fire officials rate as the worst of the year in the municipality.

The residents of the dwellings were evacuating their belongings before firemen succeeded in wiping out the danger. Thousands of feet of hose were employed to fight the blaze.

The fire started near the Burton Avenue greenhouses around noon in high grass and hedges. This the firefighters soon put out. However, not long after a strong southwest wind sprang up and fanned the smoldering particles into flame again.

The fire raced from Ruby Road across wheat and grassland, eating up hedges and other bushes enroute to Tindall Avenue and Feltham, getting into the timber stand, and then back again over to Gordon Head Road. Firemen were thankful the flame did not jump across Feltham.

Deputy Fire Chief F. Miller was in charge of the fighting program. He had two trucks on hand. When the fire was finally put out one truck remained on the scene to take on any possible recurrence.

Organization Of Commerce Chambers Discussed Here

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce is a federation of every Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade in this country and is an organization which can speak with authority for the man in business, V. R. Smith, executive member of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, told directors of the Victoria Chamber at a meeting Thursday afternoon.

"Success of the parent organization depends on every community chamber taking an active part in community welfare," the speaker said. "We cannot have a strong Canadian Chamber unless we have a string of strong local chambers across the entire country."

Mr. Smith noted that interest in Chamber of Commerce work was ever increasing. He noted that 173 new chambers had been organized within the past 12 months. The total number of chambers now in operation is 430. Within the next month 20 communities are expected to establish chambers.

"That total may seem a small number," Mr. Smith said, "but there are only 1,250 communities in the entire country which can possibly support a chamber."

"It may seem idealistic to hope that every one of these communities will eventually establish a chamber but that is what I would like to see," he said. By the constitution of the Canadian Chamber every local chamber has the same rights as others—each has only one vote at annual meetings.

"It isn't the size that counts," Mr. Smith said. "It is what they have above the chin—good ideas can come from any part of the country."

At the present time, every Canadian city with a population of 15,000 or over has a Chamber of Commerce. Of the cities with a population of 5,000 or over, 80 per cent have chambers. Communities with populations ranging from 500 to 5,000 are organized only 30 per cent.

Diggon-Hibben Firm Not Affected By Notice To Move

Diggon-Hibben Ltd. will not be moving from its present site on Government Street by Jan. 15, Ald. H. M. Diggon indicated today, despite the fact that tenants on the other section of the new Post Office site have been given notice to vacate by that date.

Although the government expropriated his property last February no settlement has been made for it yet, he said, and until the settlement has been reached he will continue business on his present premises.

It had been stated earlier this year that demolishing work would start by next June, but it now appears as if the work will be started earlier, on the building at Yates, Government and Langley Streets.

Among the tenants of this section are the Royal Trust Co., temporary offices of the Imperial Bank of Canada, the naval recruiting office H.M.C.S. Malahat, and two apartment buildings fronting Langley Street housing 10 families. Diggon-Hibben also lease part of this for warehouse purposes.

Ald. Diggon is making plans to move his business across the road to the Five Sisters Block, an L-shaped building with frontage on both Government and Port Streets. This will mean moving a number of other businesses and considerable alterations before it can be converted.

He said, however, the printing plant could not be housed here and it is most likely that it will go to the Sweeney-McConnell building which he bought last year. Considerable additions will be needed there, however, if the entire plant is to be located in the one spot. He said his plans had not been finalized on either project, and could not be until negotiations with the Dominion authorities were completed.

Bandmaster Loses Appeal On Sentence

Joseph B. Olson, 61, Vancouver bandmaster, convicted of obtaining money under false pretences, will have to serve his two years in penitentiary as the result of the decision of the Appeal Court which unanimously dismissed his appeal yesterday afternoon.

Olson appeal against the findings of the trial judge who found him guilty of obtaining $7,500 from Mrs. Alisen P. Carter, also of Vancouver. Under the promise of marriage, the accused is alleged to have obtained money from Mrs. Carter for the purpose of paying for a home under construction.

Carpenters To Press For $1.40 An Hour

Victoria carpenters will hold out for a wage boost to $1.40 per hour, A. Sims, business agent and secretary for the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, Shipwrights and Caulkers of America, said here today. While the union has not yet been officially informed, it is understood that a meeting of the Victoria Builders' Exchange directors and the union is being planned for 4.30 Sept. 26 at the Chamber of Commerce Board Room.

Recently the builders opposed any further increase in wages for any trade of the construction industry.

Mr. Sims indicated that negotiations were still continuing and the union would press for the increase from the present rate of $1.25. The $1.40 rate has been effected for carpenters in Vancouver and at up-island construction projects, he said.

CAUSE OF BELT BEING THROWN

Usually, faulty alignment of pulleys rather than a loose belt is responsible for a belt being thrown. Pulleys should be parallel, and the belt tension should be the least possible to avoid slipping.

The DOCTOR Says:

VARIED CAUSES OF BACK PAINS

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Chronic back strain becomes more common as women enter middle life. In the past it was assumed that any disorder of the female pelvic organs was responsible, but today the difficulty usually is located elsewhere.

Chronic backache in women is worse at the end of the day after standing or bending. Pain and soreness tend to stay in the back, rather than radiate down the thighs.

Forward curvature of the spine (lordosis) in the lower back region is the chief cause of low backache. The condition is worse when overweight, and it may not disappear until the extra pounds are lost. Aside from the forward curvature of the spine, X-ray does not show anything else wrong in the average patient.

Maxwell Harmon, M.D., Cleveland, points out that many low backaches result from, or are aggravated by, sleeping on a bed which is too soft or one that sags in the middle. This painful type of back distress usually awakens the patient early in the morning, but the condition wears off as the day progresses and usually disappears about noon. Both men and women experience back pain from working in monotonous or tiring sitting positions, especially in improperly fitted chairs.

One form of low back pain in women may result from inflammation of the fibrous or supporting tissues for the muscles. Acute tenderness is found over the infected areas, and pain may spread down the backs of the thighs. The patient tends to hold her back rigid, because motion is painful. This disease is recognized by injecting novocaine to deaden the sensitive area; if pain disappears, diagnosis of fibrositis is made. Another cause of low back pain is loss of bone minerals.

Low back pain in women usually starts insidiously. Patients notice increasing tiredness and pain in their backs, especially toward the end of the day. Before assuming that the cause of back strain is poor posture, a physician should be consulted. If he finds no other cause for the difficulty, a few simple changes will correct the trouble.

USE FIRM MATTRESS

Most patients with low back pain are able to enjoy a good night's rest if they sleep on a firm mattress with a board underneath. If the difficulty results from fibrositis, applications of heat and deep massage are soothing.

Low back pain, formerly ascribed to conditions in female organs or sacroiliac disease, is now known to be due to a variety of causes and successful treatment depends on locating the cause.

QUESTION: Is it possible to remove a polycystic kidney and replace it with a normal one?

ANSWER: No. Polycystic kidneys tend to be present on both sides and kidney grafts are not successful.

WILL You SAVE A LIFE?

This is a plea for something far more precious than money... YOUR blood! For blood means life itself to someone whose life is on the point of slipping away.

Every year thousands of Canadians... children struck down by accident... mothers in childbirth... patients on the operating table... depend for their very lives on blood transfusions.

Except in large centres, transfusion facilities are almost non-existent. In whole sections of the country, no plasma at all is available.

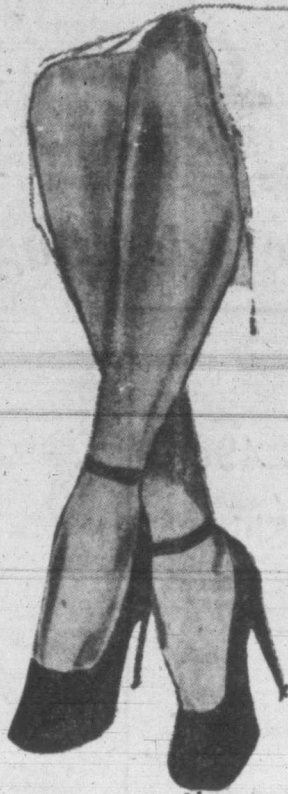

A great new civilian Blood Transfusion Service has been opened by the Canadian Red Cross to provide whole blood and plasma, FREE... not even a Hospital Service charge, to every hospital patient in Canada in need of a blood transfusion.

If you have received a Donor Card, fill in and return it at once; if you have not received a card, contact your local Red Cross Branch or Clinic, tell them you want to be a blood donor.

Coal Production Gains In August

Coal production in British Columbia during August gained gain, totalling 113,939 long tons, against 105,042 long tons in August, 1946.

Almost the entire increase, according to a monthly report of the chief inspector of mines, was caused by the opening up of strip mining operations at the Big Showing Mine at Corbin in the East Kootenay district. This mine produced 24,104 tons, bringing the total last month for the area to 74,253 tons. Production in this area in August, 1946, was 61,292 tons.

Production of Vancouver Island collieries was down by 4,000 tons to 36,606 tons. Biggest producers were Comox Colliery, 14,896 tons, No. 10 Mine, South Wellington, 16,978 tons, and White Rapids Mine, 3,923 tons, all operated by the Canadian Collieries (D) Ltd.

Output of mines in Nicola-Princeton district was 2,470 tons, compared with 2,591 tons during August, 1946.

The northern district produced 610 tons, compared with 552 during the previous August.

JULES VERNE WROTE ABOUT ROCKET AND SUBMARINE

Among all the writers in history, there are few, if any, who can rival Jules Verne in his chosen field. Verne wrote book after book of "scientific adventure." He told stories which were, in a sense, about the future.

Men had worked on some of the inventions which this Frenchman wrote about. Balloons, for example, had carried people from place to place before he was born. Yet Verne wrote of a "super-balloon," one which worked better than any which had been known.

At the age of 38 a story of another kind was written by Jules Verne. This was a trip through space on board a rocket. The rocket was fired from the mouth of a huge cannon, and three men were on board it.

The author said that the cannon was deeply sunk "in the sands of Florida" at the time it sent the rocket into space. The rocket sped to the moon, circled it, came back to earth, and splashed into the Pacific ocean.

No one ever has seen the other side of the moon, but Verne told a few things about what it was like—as seen by the heroes of his book of fancy. He declared that they beheld "yawning craters . . . real seas . . . huge black masses such as forests would appear."

The volume was called "From the Earth to the Moon, and a Trip Around It." People took a great interest in this work, and many copies were sold.

Jules Verne seemed never to grow tired of writing. Year after year he produced new stories of adventure. Usually these were published in magazines, later in books. The author had children in mind, but his stories were of equal interest to adults.

Perhaps the most famous book from Verne's pen was "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea." This was the tale of a submarine which traveled 20,000 leagues through the ocean. Submarines had been invented and tested long before he wrote the volume, but none had been very successful. Now the public heard about a vessel of huge size which made long trips under the water.

Jules Verne died in 1905, shortly after his 77th birthday.

New Amateur Golf Champ

Skee Riegel (left), of Monterey Park, Calif., and North Darby, Pa., wears a big smile to go with the trophy he got for his triumph in the United States amateur golf championships at Pebble Beach, Calif. At right is Johnny Dawson, whom Riegel defeated, 2 and 1, in the finals.

Mrs. Jack Todd Beaten In Canadian Golf Play

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto's semifinals round of the Canadian Amateur moves into the women's open golf championship here today against Grace Lenzyk of Newington, Conn., a hard-driving young miss who wasn't born when Miss Mackenzie first won the Dominion crown back in 1919.

Two other Torontonians accompany the grey-haired perennial titleholder and the 20-year-old American treat into today's championship flight. Mrs. M. H. Currier of the Summit Club is matched with Mrs. F. J. Mulqueen of the host Toronto club.

Experience told the tale as Miss Mackenzie, who has won the title five times, eliminated Mrs. J. H. Todd of Victoria, British Columbia champ, 5 and 4. Mrs. Todd managed to win only one hole, the eighth.

Sad-eyed and almost shy, Miss Lenzyk whacked some tremendous tee shots to take her match in a sparkling one-over-par 40-and-out British Columbia's second-best linkswoman, Mrs. Hugh O'Callaghan of Vancouver, 4 and 3.

Before the largest gallery of the week-long classic, Mrs. Currier and Mrs. Cecil Gooderham of the host club shot a sub-par nine before Mrs. Currier, emerged 1 up with a five-foot putt on the 18th. The blonde shotmaker from Summit Club, starting with a five-hole deficit, took every hole on the incoming nine.

Mrs. Mulqueen, who was crowned champion the last time the open was held in 1938, didn't have as much trouble as expected in downing young Mrs. Eddie Bush, wife of a Detroit Club pro, 4 and 3.

Local Boxla Squads Play At Nanaimo

Canadian Legion, senior champions, and J.B.A.A. juveniles will travel to Nanaimo tomorrow for second games in their best-of-three series for island box lacrosse titles. The senior game is slated to start at 8, in the arena.

Legion dumped the up-landers by an 11 to 7 count in the first game of the playoffs here last week and will be at full strength tomorrow night as they hope to end the series in straight games.

J.B.A.A. must win their contest if they hope to remain in contention as Nanaimo won the opening game of the juvenile series in overtime.

If third games are necessary,

Announce Local Baseball Nine For Tilt With Vancouver

The Victoria all-star baseball squad which will meet Vancouver in tomorrow night's B.C. championship contest at Athletic Park, will be composed mainly of the island champion Canadian Legion nine augmented by a number of local stars who recently returned from the prairie circuit.

The starting line-up as released by coach Bob Wiegand will be Babe Work, 1b, Roy Shephard or Roger Ross 2b, Rookie Wright 3b, Wally Thomson ss, Harry Barber lf, Jack Walker cf, Bernie Anderson rf, Bill Prior, Stan Davies, Stan Curry and Lloyd Cann, pitchers, and Mickey Smith, catcher.

Well-known players, who will be over with Jimmy Tough's Vancouver aggregation, include Jimmy Crossato, Russ Richardson, Kenny Van Hatten, Ed Henry and Eddie Mathew.

The pageant being presented by the May 24th Celebrations Association, sponsors of the event, will start at 7.30 and will feature the attempt of William Harkness to escape from a welded steel tank.

The Victoria Girls' Drill team and the Victoria Boys' Band will be in attendance. Prior to the game the drill team will give a demonstration of precision drills that have made them famous up and down the Pacific Northwest.

Navy Oak Bay Meet In Cricket Knockout Final

With four straight victories to their credit, Navy will play host to the Oak Bay eleven in the final round of the Victoria and District Cricket Association knockout series at Naden, tomorrow at 2.30.

Sailors will take the field at full strength for the important match and will pin their confidence on Tisdall, Oliver and Frewer who have starred in recent victories.

Oak Bay, however, have a great team of batters and bowlers and will make things interesting for the sailors. Brewin, in particular, has been a bowler's headache of late with his fine batting performances.

Line-ups follow.
R.C.N.—Tisdall, Budge, Oliver, McClure, Harley, Frewer, Godfrey, Irvine, Gorely, Murray, Shirley and LaRose.

Oak Bay—Dobbie, Sparks, Parkins, Brewin, Gauvreau, Sands, Thornton, Bennett, Wright, Robinson and Scott.

Nine Nominations For Times Handicap

First of the two $1,000 stakes at the Willows track, the Times Handicap over a mile and one sixteenth tomorrow, has drawn nine nominations, racing secretary Art Dingman announced this morning. Heading the list is the entry of Delayed Action, Mrs. Harry Heywood's great six-year-old gelding, which enjoyed such a great season on mainland tracks. Delayed action is one half of an entry along with Passion.

Another entry is that of Gay Guy and Broad Camp. Other nominations include the Victoria ace, His Brother, Sir Tinker, Dave Diamond's Pineworth, winner of two handicaps at the Willows to date, Displayer and Gene S. It is likely that a field of six or seven will face starter Chay Puett.

Thursday's card of racing, which attracted a better than usual crowd, saw favorites and second choices dominate the program. Continuing the form which has made him the leading rider, Billy Robertson rode in all seven races, booting six mounts into the money with two wins, two places and two show horses. Result left him leading the jockey race for the silver fox furs with 66 points, as compared to 51 for runner-up Emil Sporri. The latter did not ride yesterday, taking a couple of day rest after his spell on Best Dressed Wednesday.

FEATURE RACE

Overlooked in the betting, despite his consistent good form since the meeting opened, Vernon Kinsman, with Johnny Sundquist aboard, took the featured sixth race, a $2,000 claiming affair over a mile and 70 yards. Husted to the front at the quarter the winner was never headed and returned a neat $10.55. Favored Displayer was never able to get up and stumbled coming out of the far turn to run last. Craiglochart, who has always shown a liking for the Willows, cracked down in the third for his second win of the meeting. Jockey Ted Johnson was up on the winner and won in a driving finish with the favorite, Slateford.

Johnny Hruschak picked himself up a couple of winners yesterday, getting Lady Vernon across the wire in the fifth and heading a seven-horse field home in the finale with the odds-on choice, Bandra.

Other winners were Blue Stream in the first, Witch's Taxi in the fourth and Ladner Lad in the second.

The small win prices made their presence felt in the double and quinella which paid off at $27.10 and $7.95, respectively.

Mustangs Play Issaquah In American Grid Opener

Victoria Mustangs, who this year switched over to the American grid game following a relatively successful season in the British Columbia Big Four circuit last season, will open their 1947 home slate at Macdonald Park tomorrow at 2.30 as they play host to the Issaquah, Washington, eleven.

Although defeated in their first start of the campaign by the Kelso, Washington, team on Labor Day, the local eleven are confident of an improved performance in their first home stand. Coach Tom Carney, himself a veteran of many a rugged battle, has been drilling his charges diligently the past two weeks and will throw a young, hard-running team on the field against the visitors.

The American game differs from the Canadian version in that ball carriers receive the benefit of unlimited blocking on the part of their teammates. Also the game is played with 11 men, one less than is used in Canada.

ONE of the best stories heard at the Willows track has Babe Harris as the central figure. Associated with the horse racing game for the best part of his many years Harris pulled a trick that might easily have cost him a little better than $100. In the sixth race on Tuesday Harris held a win ticket on On To Victory which was beaten by a nose by Broad Camp in a photo finish. Along came the seventh and final heat with Harris having his win money on Meta M. In a thrilling two-horse finish between Meta M and Wild Deer the photo sign was again hung out. After the field passed the stand Harris was sure he had lost another close one and promptly threw his $5 win ticket to the ground in disgust. Then the fun started.

As he was strolling towards the exit gate, talking to himself about a bad day, Harris glanced over to the official results board and to his surprise noticed Meta M's number had been posted as the winner. Beating a hasty return to where he had been standing Babe started a frantic search for the missing pastebord. It was nowhere to be seen. Then he figured it must have slipped in between a large crack in the boards.

Raising a lusty shout he finally located the track carpenter and, after a couple of big 'one by sixes' had been piled up, the winning ticket was finally located. A little red in the face Harris walked over to the mutuels and collected his $100.10. But it's going to be a long time before he hears the end of the incident.

A TELEPHONE call today from Pat Mulcahy, Victoria soccer commissioner, is good evidence another football season is just around the corner. Mulcahy was interested in explaining to me just why patrons of Coast League matches this season in Victoria are going to have to pay an increased admission price if they want to see the ranking clubs in the province perform.

"In recent years the guarantee to mainland teams coming to Victoria for matches has jumped from $120 to $185, and for that reason it has been found impossible for the local club to operate under the old admission price," Mulcahy said. "Then again the new charge is in line with the prices charged by other sports, such as rugby and Canadian football for intercity fixtures."

Regardless of Mulcahy's explanation I can already hear the mumbling and grumbling among the soccer die-hards when they have to dig down a little deeper. This has always been a two-bit soccer town.

Football, American version, makes its local debut for the season tomorrow afternoon at Macdonald Park, when the Mustangs tangle with the Issaquah squad from Washington. Ignoring British Columbia's Big Four, the Mustangs have elected to concentrate their efforts on the American code and have drafted what should prove a popular schedule against clubs on the Olympic Peninsula. Coach Tom Carney has put in a lot of hard work with his youngsters, and it is hoped the gridders receive the support of the Victoria public.

Collapse Of Cards May Cost Dyer Job

The complete collapse of the St. Louis Cardinals, presaging a general shakeup that may cost manager Eddie Dyer his job, has tongues wagging around the baseball world as Brooklyn Dodgers ease into the world series. Now the Brooks can do no worse than tie and the magic number combination has been reduced to one.

Losing six straight since they took the middle game of the decisive Dodger series, the defending world champions now are threatened with a third-place finish. They can be mathematically eliminated tonight if they lose to Boston.

Boston, closing strong with a clean sweep of the Sportsman's Park series, clipped the Red Birds last night, 6 to 2, advancing with in 1½ games of second place.

Some of the higher-priced Cardinal talent which has passed its peak form probably will be peddled during the off season. Unconfirmed reports have Marty Marion, Whitey Kurowski and Howie Pollet slated for other pastures before a new season.

The man who is most often mentioned in St. Louis as a possible successor for Dyer, if Broadon does not renew his contract, is Terry Moore, who will be given a "night" tonight. It could be symbolic.

DODGERS LOSE

Brooklyn blew a chance to apply the mathematical clincher when they bowed to Pittsburgh in the afternoon, 8 to 7.

Wally Westlake upset the Brooks with a ninth-inning homer, assuring a victory over his former mates for reliever Kirby Higbe. Ralph Kiner belted home run No. 50 and Bruce Edwards, Jackie Robinson and Carl Furillo hit homers for the Dodgers.

The New York Giants' record home-run total hit 211 for the year on Bobby Thomson's two-run clout in the third inning of their 9 to 5 edge over Chicago. Cincinnati's Ed Ertelt, a late starter, earned his fourth victory of a disappointing freshman season, as the Reds clubbed Dutch Leonard for 15 hits in a 9 to 4 decision.

Frank (Spec) Shea hurled his first complete game since July 5 when he threw a four-hitter against Chicago for a 3 to 1 victory. Shea had a shutout until Rudy York homered in the ninth.

Bandra was taken in hand at break, reserved off pace to final three-eighths, moved up between horses, went into lead and drew to easy win. Winkup went to top at start, was permitted to drop back passing stand, put to drive leaving back stretch, moved up strongly, but was too far out of it to run winner down. Golden Bell was in contention all the way. Galmond closed ground steadily in final three-eighths. Black Memory and Lady Arden showed early speed, then gave way. Declared—Shasta King, Fleet Girl. Overweight—Galmond (1).

Clubs Hope to Draw 4,000,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Club owners of the Pacific Coast Baseball League looked at their books, saw that attendance was already far beyond last year's record, and predicted the total would pass 4,000,000 by the time the season ends Sept. 28.

Attendance through Wednesday's games this year unofficially, was 3,881,885. The 1946 record was 3,718,716. San Francisco, league leader with 670,563 last year apparently will fall short this year. The current figure is 610,931. Oakland, with 1946 total of 634,311 and 573,431, and Hollywood, with 513,056 last year and 483,477 to date, are also apparently trailing. Other clubs: Los Angeles, 501,259; Seattle, 444,551; San Francisco, 349,829; Portland, 314,133; San Diego, 291,004; San Francisco (figure given first).

Esquimalt Adds City Title To Softball Trophy List

Esquimalt Meat Market clinched the most successful season that any Victoria softball nine has enjoyed in the city for a number of years, last night, by thumping Army, Navy and Air Force Vets, 7 to 1 in the second and final game of the city playoffs to capture the Colonel Cup.

By garnering the city championship the Jim Lackie-coached squad completed a clean sweep of the trophy list for this year. After winding up on top of the heap in the senior A loop, Esquimalt went on to whip Brentwood Aces in the playdowns to qualify for the island final. They then knocked off Ladysmith Travelers Hotel in a seven-game playoff for the island crown.

The B.C. championship came their way in a four-game stand with New Westminster Army and Navy at New Westminster. Then, forced to play the western Canada final in Vancouver doubt George Kinch, the stylish southpaw. Kinch was sent to the hill in 11 contests and returns victorious in 10. His only defeat came at the hands of Ladysmith. In last night's game Gary Taylor, regular second sacker, took to the hill and just to prove that he, too, knew what it was all about, set the losers down with ease. Taylor made it look even easier in the seventh inning when he turned southpaw and struck out two of the three batters to face him.

CARNERA DISQUALIFIED
 TORONTO (CP)—Primo Carnera, former world champion heavyweight boxer, was disqualified Thursday night when he punched Whipper Billy Watson, recognized British Empire wrestling champion, in a wrestling match billed as a world title elimination.

Workers, Housewives Want Price Controls Restored In Canada

TORONTO (CP)—George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.), said today he would ask the quarterly meeting of the Canadian council of the union here tomorrow to demand the return of price controls on basic commodities such as bread and to seek a ban on importation of super-luxury motor cars from the United States.

Mr. Burt's statement came on the heels of a decision Thursday night by representatives of more than 55,000 union workers in Toronto to seek higher wages to offset the effect of steadily mounting costs of living. During a heated meeting, Toronto District Labor Council unionists heard a call for a general strike, but decided to request the federal government to make a thorough investigation of what they called "outlandish prices."

WINNIPEG RESOLUTION

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Manitoba Housewives Consumers' League today sent a telegram to Prime Minister King urging that the government intervene to prevent increases in bread prices. The telegram said that "Winnipeg housewives are up in arms against the latest decontrol measures which have sent the price of bread up. We strongly urge that the situation demands that controls and subsidies be restored and prices rolled back to allow an adequate standard of living. "We further demand that the government intervene so that the price of bread remains the same."

Mrs. Anne Ross, league president, added that the organization is calling on all groups and individuals to send a barrage of letters and telegrams urging reinstatement of price controls.

2 Homes Entered

Two thefts of articles from city homes and another attempted entry of a dwelling, were reported to city police last night and this morning.

A purse, containing $10, taken from a drawer in the rear of a bedroom, was the loss reported by J. Newton, 54 Chester Street, who returned home at 11:30

Thursday night and found the premises broken into. A screen had been taken off the pantry window. Mr. Newton told detectives Fearon Woodburn and Bill Richards that there was nobody home from 3 in the afternoon on.

Mrs. M. Little, 1417 Vancouver Street, told police that by using a pass key someone entered her home yesterday between 3 and 4:30 when she was away and took the $70 combination radio and phonograph from the kitchen table.

Consumer Unaffected By 30 Per Cent Rise In Freight Rates

The 30 per cent increase ordered in existing freight rates between all B.C. ports ordered by B.C. shipping firms represents too small an increase to be passed on to the consumer and will have to be absorbed by the manufacturer, wholesaler or retailer, a survey here showed today.

The C.P.R.'s B.C. Coast Steamship Service Thursday night announced the increase would become effective next Monday. A company spokesman said "higher operating costs" were responsible for the boost. Recent price jumps in fuel oil were a major factor, he said. Most B.C.C.S.S. vessels use oil fuel.

Customers of the Vancouver Barge Co., Waterhouse Barge Co., Vancouver and Union Steamships Ltd., have already been advised of the increase and an announcement from the Canadian National Steamships is also expected.

A wholesaler here pointed out the present rate is 20 cents a hundredweight and the advance in rates would mean an increase in seven cents a hundredweight, or approximately 1 1/4 cents a pound.

The increase would be too small to pass on to the consumer, he said, and would have to be absorbed by the manufacturer, wholesaler or retailer. One wholesaler firm said half its goods reached here from Victoria which meant the manufacturer would pay the increase. For the remainder, the wholesaler or retailer will probably pay.

The Appeal Court dismissed today the appeal of Rodolph Welch, who was found guilty in a Vancouver Magistrate Court of causing bodily harm to Richard Jackson, and sentenced to a fine of $100. The appeal of Wilfred John, who was found guilty of stealing suit cases from a C.N.R. bunk car at New Westminster was withdrawn. The accused was sentenced to 18 months' hard labor by a Vancouver magistrate. Also scheduled to appear before the Appeal Court today is the case of Earle C. Heale, of Victoria, who is appealing against a decision of the Supreme Court with regard to the Landlord and Tenant Act.

Children's Aid Sues Father For Unpaid Bill For Children

In city police court this morning there was a case before Magistrate H. C. Hall which illustrated that the Victoria Children's Aid Society takes action against parents who fail to live up to their commitments after lodging their children in the care of the home.

Today's case was against a man who claimed to have been deserted by his wife in February of 1946, and who left his two children, aged 11 and nine years, with the home and told Superintendent Rae Kirkendale and Assistant Superintendent M. M. Wright that he could pay the rate fixed. That was a little over 94 cents a child per day.

During the time he left his children at the home up to yesterday the man had only paid over $50 and the bill up to September 18 amounted to $1,103.73. Miss Kirkendale told the court, "Those two children have been living on charity for more than a year and one-half," she added, in response to a question from C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor.

The superintendent said that when all efforts to get the father to meet commitments had failed the Children's Aid Society decided to take legal action.

Magistrate Hall, after hearing the man state his case, ordered the case adjourned to tomorrow for judgment. In previous cases of this type the magistrate has emphasized the seriousness of charges where parents abandoned their offspring and allow them to exist on charity.

Charged with failing to provide necessities for his children, accused, who pleaded guilty, told of being away from town up in the northern part of B.C. as second cook in a mine, leaving there when a strike started. Just prior to his arrest he had been a logging truck driver and told the court he made about $200 for the month he was on that job. Since his wife left him, defendant said he had had a difficult time to rehabilitate himself.

Magistrate Hall wanted to know why he had not given "a solitary 5-cent piece" towards the support of his children. Accused started to say he had commitments to meet in Vancouver, but Magistrate Hall waived that aside as no excuse.

Legion President Asks Premier Take Early Action On Housing

OTTAWA (CP)—Maj.-Gen. C. E. Price, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, in a letter to Prime Minister King made public today, said Canada's housing situation constitutes "a national emergency" and urged immediate government action to "realistically come to grips with the problem."

The letter, second from the Legion on housing within a week, said it was more than ever "alarmed at the rapidly-growing extent to which dissatisfaction about living accommodation is being used to undermine law and order."

It suggested the government should:

1. Build more wartime houses for rent.
2. Encourage private enterprise in the building of low-cost houses under the Legion's suggested plan for home-ownership.

Charging that the efforts of many thousands of married veterans to rehabilitate themselves was being thwarted by "lack of decent shelter," the letter said the measures already taken by the government "are proving inadequate to meet the nation's housing needs." Many thousands more units of wartime housing were needed to rent.

The Canadian Legion is still of the opinion that its proposal to revise the National Housing Act mortgage loan requirements, as related to living units costing $7,000 or less, is one that ought to receive favorable consideration immediately.

"We believe that a 3 1/2 per cent interest rate is a sound economic rate for loans on low cost housing, having in mind that interest on the forthcoming issue of Canada savings bonds is to be at the rate of 2 1/2 per cent."

"Despite amendments, the cost of the loan to a veteran is still too high, due to the 4 1/2 per cent interest rate and to the practice of basing loans on some hypothetical lending value rather than on actual expenditures, thus increasing the initial cost equity."

Need More Taggers For Mayor's Fund For Parcels Oct. 4

Plans for the tag day for the Mayor's Fund, Oct. 4, are progressing, but more volunteers are needed for tagging, the committee in charge said today, as the need for more parcels to Britain is emphasized daily in letters received from grateful recipients.

Anyone who would be willing to tag may leave their names with Mrs. Ken Drury, G 7410; Mrs. W. Blair, G 6503, or Mrs. H. E. Wilson, E 1057.

Donations to the Mayor's Fund, the proceeds of the first day or brought in voluntarily to the City Hall, now stand at $10,898, and close to 1,600 parcels have been sent.

One pathetic instance related in a letter to one of the committee members told of an old lady in the village of Hampstead who received a parcel.

"She was so afraid she had no right to it, she had it hidden under her couch for weeks," the letter related, "and when asked if she had received the parcel, burst into tears and said she knew it wasn't for her, but didn't know who to give it back to, and as she had opened a tin and eaten it, she was afraid she would have the police on her. It is a great pity that the kind-hearted Canadians only receive official letters; there are so many to whom this is a godsend, although they are inarticulate in their gratitude."

To assist those who are sending parcels personally, instead of just contributing to the fund, the Women's Voluntary Services in England has issued a sheet giving the present rationing, and suggestions regarding the best things to pack in a parcel, wrapping instructions. Names and addresses of needy families, or old age pensioners in Britain who have no relatives in the Dominion can be obtained from the W.V.S., 41 Tophill Street, London, S.W.1, England, or from members of the Mayor's Fund committee here.

Mariners are advised the No. 6 lighted buoy in Fraser River is reported damaged and withdrawn from position, according to a notice today by W. L. Stamford, agent for the Department of Transport.

Victorians Buy Shoes Before Price Goes Up

Increase in the sale of shoes is reported by the majority of retail manufacturers that the price of men's, women's and children's shoes were going up. The anticipated price increase on shoes is due to the lifting of control on skins and hides.

"More people than ever before bought shoes today," said one retail merchant. "There has been a noticeable increase in sales."

But the majority of retail merchants are of the opinion that prices would not rise for some time yet—until the old stocks run out.

Cleaning establishments have also raised prices on certain lines of clothing renovation.

First Frost Of Season Felt Here

The first touch of frost, although slight, was experienced in Victoria early today.

Early risers this morning found soil in their gardens to be hard and noticed glistening patches of white on nearby roof tops. First concern of gardeners were tomato, marrow, squash and other plants. Many persons reported this morning they had lost plants. Atop Gonzales Hill, however, officials of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory say they did not record a frost last night.

"The minimum temperature up here was 38. It needs to be down to 32 before there is a frost," one official said. He noted, however, that it was quite likely that thermometer mercury dropped to this mark in low-lying areas.

High Base Metal Prices Send Up Value Of B.C. Mineral Output

The value of British Columbia's mineral output in 1946, swollen by postwar inflationary prices for base metals, totaled $71,807,951, a total greater than any year since 1942, annual report of the provincial mines department showed today.

Whether or not the 1947 output will exceed the all-time record set in 1941, when the value of British Columbia mines' output totaled $78,479,719, depends largely on whether present prices of base metals continue at their high levels. Officials of the provincial mines department feel breaks in these prices, bound to come within the next two or three years, may come even later this year.

In 1945 production was valued at $63,343,949. The production last year raises to $2,169,272,595 the value of minerals produced by British Columbia since 1852. The 1946 value was exceeded only by production during the years, 1937, 1940, 1941 and 1942.

While the value of production last year was higher than the previous year the quantities of coal and most of the metals produced in B.C. were less than those of 1945, the report said. On the other hand the quantities of many items classified as non-metals, clay products and other structural materials increased compared with the 1945 figures.

The 1946 production was cut considerably by strikes which hit the copper mines and most of the lead-gold producers and some silver-lead-zinc producers.

During 1946 the lead-mining industry in all branches employed 11,933 persons and paid out dividends totaling $15,566,047, salaries of $4,014,266, wages of $13,427,006 and bought processing supplies valued at $5,018,341 and fuel worth $4,173,699.

EXPLORATION RESUMED

The year, 1946, saw the resumption of exploratory work in several former gold producers shut down during the war and also in several silver-lead-zinc properties.

Exploratory work was also undertaken in some coal districts, notably at the Tsaile River on Vancouver Island and in the Crow's Nest Pass area.

Elusive Cougar Is Spotted By Newsboy Near Mount Tolmie

The large cougar which was spotted earlier this week near Mount Tolmie and has successfully evaded the searches of Game Warden Joseph Jones' cougar dog, is getting closer to the city, according to a report received this morning by Saanich police.

While delivering his papers in the semi-dark early morning hours George Hawes, aged 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Hawes, 1640 Cedar Hill Crossroad, spotted the big cat. He caught sight of it off Richmond Avenue, near Mount Tolmie.

The information was given by Saanich police to the game warden for action. While cougar tracks were seen by Mr. Jones at Mount Douglas, his dog was unable to pick up a trail.

Earl C. Stewart was fined $40 by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Saanich police court Thursday when he was found guilty on a charge of dangerous driving.

A fine of $50 and two months' suspension of his driver's license was the punishment imposed by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Saanich police court Thursday on Andres Larson when he pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving on Gorge Road. Evidence was that he drove his vehicle a considerable distance on the wrong side of the road, that the truck turned over on its side and in that position skidded for 152 feet.

Million Cases Of Salmon Canned

B.C. salmon canning operations passed the 1,000,000 case mark last week.

Weekly bulletin of the chief supervisor of western fisheries showed today that the 1947 pack at last week-end stood at 1,069,880 cases, the highest during the last six years except for the 1945 pack, which at this date had been 1,375,474 cases. A case represents 48 pounds of salmon.

Sockeye fishing was slow during the week, but more than 100,000 cases of pinks were canned, bringing the production of that species for this season to 445,506 cases. This pack was exceeded at this date in 1945 and 1943.

So far this year 238,092 cases of chums have been canned, the greatest production of this species during the past six years or more.

LITTLE MASTER

Finest Tone System in
RCA Victor History

This symbolizes the "Golden Throat"—RCA Victor's exclusive 3-way acoustical system. This thrilling development is explained technically in an illustrated booklet attached to RCA Victor instruments.

This beautifully designed table set—less than twelve inches long—has RCA Victor's exclusive "Golden Throat" tone system. Plenty of volume, too, with automatic volume control... yet low in price. It's a grand little radio—and a fine achievement, made possible by RCA Victor's great resources and years of experience.

The graceful walnut-plastic cabinet blends with any livingroom. It's also an ideal personal set for guest room, den or the children. Put one in the kitchen too, and listen while you work. For the bedside table choose the lovely ivory-plastic cabinet.

This compact table model is at your RCA Victor dealer's now... finest ever produced in the low priced field.

'Guadalcanal Diary' Screened At Rio

Noted for the outstanding roster of top literary properties it possesses, 20th Century-Fox brings another best-selling book to the screen with its picture of Richard Tregaskis' "Guadalcanal Diary," current attraction at the Rio Theatre.

Preston Foster, Lloyd Nolan, William Bendix, Richard Conte and Anthony Quinn head the imposing cast of "Guadalcanal Diary," which also includes Richard Jaeckel, Roy Roberts, Minor Watson, Ralph Byrd, Lionel Stander, Reed Hadley and John Archer.

U.S. Delegates Hear Aranha's Views At U.N. Session

Fanny Brice Tells Why Comedienne Hard To Find

By ARMAND ARCHER
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—No one will deny that one of the things this continent can use today is a few more laughs. Comedians are striving valiantly. But what are the gals trying to do about the situation? Very little.

The weaker sex hounded for equal opportunities for a long time. Being soft-hearted, we said O.K. and before we knew it they became doctors, lawyers, writers, etc. But the number of aspiring comedienne today equals that of male mahjong players. It seemed like a good idea to call up Fanny Brice.

"Why do all the gals today want to be glamor-pusses and not Fanny Brices?" I asked.

GOODBYE TO ROMANCE

She countered with: "Would you want them to give up everything?"

She quickly added: "If a girl becomes a comedienne, she can kiss romance goodbye. I had to laugh myself into my marriages. 'You can just picture a fella about to propose to a comedienne. He'd be scored silly that she'd make a joke out of the whole business.'"

Any girl with ambition to be funny, she continued, realizes her chances of happy married life fade as she becomes funnier. So, she puts her joke book in the attic and concentrates on a hope chest.

The unsuspecting male thinks he's married a sweet and simple girl, but discovers she can make a joke out of that bill for a new fur coat. Some joke.

Net result: We've got to wait until the budding comedienne gets themselves married.

Any volunteers?

Mark Hellinger returned from New York convinced Hollywood is not as bad a place as our eastern brothers would have us believe. His answer to those in the "thay-tuh" who berate Hollywood is "sour grapes."

He was filming "The Naked City" on Gotham, and planned to use a cast composed mainly of New Yorkers. And Hellinger found them more than willing to appear in a movie.

But in case Hollywood stars think they are superior, Mark reminds there are many in the eastern league who also make $2,000 a week.

Estonian, Latvian Refugees Detained

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of 23 Estonians and one Latvian who braved an Atlantic crossing in a 43-foot sailboat to realize their dream of living in this country, were detained at Ellis Island today awaiting a hearing by immigration officials.

The group landed at Savannah, Ga., Tuesday, and their skipper, Ludvig Tosine, cheerfully but apologetically said they had no visas—only a desire and a will to become citizens of the United States. They were brought to Ellis Island Thursday because detention facilities were unavailable at Savannah.

Actor Rode To Fame In Western Saddle

When Billy Sheffield, youthful actor, heard that he might be cast as the principal child actor supporting Preston Foster and Gail Patrick in Columbia's "King of the Wild Horses," thundering outdoor drama currently at the Dominion Theatre, which would be his biggest part to date, Billy got busy.

Although he has ridden horseback often with his father, it has always been in an English saddle, but that wouldn't be right for a ranch boy, and Billy is a perfectionist. So, the youngster got Guinn (Big Boy) Williams on the phone and right then and there arranged with this other famous horseman to teach him how to ride cowboy fashion.

YORK THEATRE

Noel Coward not only created the mischievous plot and sparkling dialogue of his famous play "Blithe Spirit," but also took a hand in the occult doings of his theatrical brain child. He played the role of the novelist, Charles Condomine... a man with a charming wife, and another in the Great Beyond who returned to earth with devastating persecutions on his second marriage.

Rex Harrison plays the part of the novelist in the scintillating technicolor movie version of "Blithe Spirit."

ROYAL THEATRE

At the age of 80 Joe E. Howard is now enjoying the top triumph of his career as a fabulous minstrel—seeing his own life story immortalized on the screen by Twentieth Century-Fox under the title of his most popular ballad, "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now." The technicolor musical extravaganza now at the Royal Theatre has June Haver and Mark Stevens in the starring roles.

CAPITOL THEATRE

The screen's popular Van Johnson is given an opportunity to reveal his acting versatility in M-G-M's action-filled new picture, "Romance of Rosy Ridge," in which he deserts his light-comedy roles to offer a stirring portrayal of a Yankee soldier in the turbulent period of fighting factions in Missouri following the end of the U.S. Civil War. The new offering is currently on view at the Capitol Theatre.

Miss Betty C. Wright of Washington, D.C., director field service for the American Hearing Society, will attend a meeting of the Victoria Club for the Hard-of-Hearing Saturday evening at 8, in the clubrooms at 1416 Douglas Street.

Jane Wyman, Morgan Teamed in 'Cheyenne'

"Cheyenne," Warner Bros. romantic outdoor adventure drama of the lawless hordes in old Wyoming, opens at the Atlas Theatre today. Dennis Morgan, Jane Wyman, Janis Paige and Bruce Bennett share co-starring honors in the new film drama.

Chief supporting roles are portrayed by Alan Hale, Arthur Kennedy, John Ridgely, Barton MacLure, Tom Tyler and Bob Steele.

"Cheyenne" was directed by Raoul Walsh and produced for Warners by Robert Buckner. Original background music was composed by Max Steiner.

PLAZA THEATRE

The owl-nest hairdo is the new tasty little concept presented by Marjorie Main in "The Egg and I." The Universal-International picture starring Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray is currently at the Plaza Theatre. Miss Main plays "Ma Kettle," the bucolic matriarch who after years of striving to make a neat and industrious citizen of shiftless Pa Kettle, played by Percy Kilbride, finally falls into a rut of her own.

NEW FLYING ENTHUSIAST

Dick Powell is smiling these days because June Allyson has been won over to flying. When she flew with drug magnate Justin Dart to Dick's "Stations West" location in Arizona, June took a turn at the controls and liked it. Her husband is an air enthusiast. Now the Powells are planning to fly to Hawaii this November.

San Francisco Moves Back Into Coast Ball Lead

Roy Nicely celebrated his selection as all-Coast League shortstop by batting the San Francisco Seals to an easy 11 to 2 win over Sacramento and back into first place last night.

Nicely, a sparkling fielder but normally a 250 hitter, smacked a bases-loaded triple and a two-run double on his first two trips to the plate to make it a breeze for Bob Joyce.

The Seals moved a half-game ahead of Los Angeles as the Angels were edged 5 to 4, by San Diego.

Portland's never-give-up Beavers bounced back to within four games of the top by sweeping a doubleheader from Oakland, 2 to 0 and 5 to 4. Ancient Ad Liska notched his 189th win for the Beavers—in over a decade of service—with a sparkling three-hitter in the seven-inning opener. Roy Helsel outlasted three Oakland twirlers to take the night-cap.

Seattle clubbed out a 10 to 1 conquest over Hollywood to go a game ahead of the Stars in their battle for fifth place.

Cy Thomas Signs

REGINA (CP)—Cy Thomas, wingman with Edmonton Flyers of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League last season, has signed a professional contract with Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League.

Bill Tobin, president of the Hawks, said that Thomas will be given a tryout and might, depending on his performance, play with Kansas City Pla-Mors of the United States League, the Hawk farm club.

Playoffs In Coast Ball Open Oct. 1.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The president's cup playoff in the Pacific Coast Baseball League will get under way Oct. 1, the teams finishing first and second playing host, respectively, to the teams finishing third and fourth in the regular pennant race.

Games will be played Oct. 1-23 in these cities: Oct. 4, teams will be idle or traveling, and the playoffs resumed Oct. 5, with the teams shifting to the runner-up cities for the remainder of the four-out-of-seven-game series.

The regular season ends Sept. 28.

LOCKE AT EDMONTON

EDMONTON (CP)—Bobby Locke, South African golf ace and top tournament winner on the United States golf trail this year, arrived here Thursday by plane in the course of his exhibition tour. He will leave for Calgary Saturday.

Police Move World Series Fan But Will Protect His Position

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Prime, a St. Louis Cardinal fan, is sure to get one of the 14,000 bleacher seats New York Yankees will put on sale for the opening game of the world series, but if you haven't ordered your ticket yet, don't bother.

The Yankees have long been sold out and Brooklyn Dodgers stopped accepting applications after midnight, so your only chance now is to lineup behind Joe in the free-for-all for bleacher seats and standing room.

A total of 21,000 tickets will be put on sale by the Yankees on each of four days at the stadium. Of these, 14,000 will be bleacher seats, 7,000 for standing room only.

Ebbets Field, where three games are scheduled provided the Brooks clinch the National League flag as expected, has a seating capacity of 35,000 compared with Yankee Stadium's 75,000. About 3,000 bleacher seats will be available at Brooklyn the day of each game.

Prime, 57, arrived from St. Louis by bus and at 10 Wednesday he took up his position at the bleacher entrance to the home of the American League champions.

He said he had been first in line for several world series openers since 1906 and wanted to "do it again."

Police arrived as news photographers were taking pictures and told Prime he would not be permitted to start a line at the Stadium 13 days in advance of the opening game. They promised Prime, however, that if he would return on the eve of the game the police would see that he got his No. 1 position.

Dizzy Dean May Return To Mound For Closing Game

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean, who's been talking about St. Louis Brownie pitching from a broad casting booth all season, has signed a contract to get out on the mound for a one-game appearance with the American League cellar dwellers.

The one-time St. Louis Cardinal hurling star signed the player contract Wednesday and probably will get a chance to find out if his "high, hard one" has any effect on present-day hitters in the season's finale.

Brownie manager Herald (Muddy) Ruel said at Boston he would use Dean on the last day of the season against Chicago White Sox Sept. 28 "providing the White Sox are assured of their place in the race and we are assured of ours."

"If either team has a chance to gain or
